A. W. Burroughs' Demise.

On Wednesday morning, May 11, 1910, Arthur W. Burroughs went to his long home. His passing was not unexpected, for he had been near unto death for many weeks, but his great vitality, the heritage of a pure and noble life, carried him over and he was spared to his family and friends for a longer time. He was born November 30, 1874, near Grinnell, Iowa. For ten years after graduation he was secretary in the office of H. W. Spalding, one of Iowa's largest manufacturers. He was married to Miss Edith J. Ward September 23, 1903, and to this devoted couple was born little William Ward. Arthur united with the Congregational church at the age of 15 years and all his life has stood manfully by the high standard adopted by an honored family, of which he was the youngest member. In February, 1908, he was prostrated by la grippe, and from its effects he was never able to fully recover, and tuberculosis was a result. He came to Grants Pass in May of the same year, and put up a valiant fight for his life, aided by every kindness that loving hands could extend. He lived a faultless life, devoted to his family and friends, and he leaves an honored name. It may be well said of him that "he lived above the fog" in public act and private thought. He leaves a wife and little son, an aged mother, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Bartlett, all of Grants Pass, and one brother and three sisters in Iowa, and a host of friends to mourn his loss. The funeral was held Friday afternoon.

Two Trips a Day.

Commencing a week from Monday, the Southern Pacific motor car running between Grants Pass and Ashland will make two round trips a day. The time of departure has not yet been announced, but it is probable that the first trip will leave Grants Pass at 7 a. m., returning at 12 m.; and the second trip will leave Grants Pass at 1 p. m. and return at 6 p. m. This will give the Rogue River valley practically five local trains a day each way, which will supply the transportation demands for some time to come.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Eight of the Grants Pass young ladies left this city last Sunday on the motor car for Woodville, where they spent the day picnicking in the grove adjacent to the thriving little village. On arrival at their destination the young people attended Sunday school in the forenoon, after which the day was given over to visiting interesting places in and around the city. Woodville is fast becoming a favorite place for picnic parties, as the distance from Grants Pass and the new motor car make a very favorable combination, which many parties have been taking advantage of during the recent good weather. The girls were well supplied with lunch, sufficient for dinner and supper which were served in the grove under the trees, and returned to Grants Pass on No. 16 in the evening, declaring they had enjoyed the time of their lives.

The Royal Neighbors of Camp No. 2909 and the Modern Woodmen of America met at their hall on last Friday evening and held a most enjoyable social evening. A banquet was served in the banquet hall to which full justice was done by those present. The attendance at this social meeting was not large but this did not in any way affect the jolly good time which followed. The Royal Neighbors and the Modern Woodmen of America are noted for their efficiency in the entertaining line, and when attending one of their social gatherings one is always sure of an evening well spent. This was no exception to the general rule.

The members of the Ladies' Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church held their regular monthly social meeting in the Guild hall Wednesday afternoon. Between 50 and 60 members and friends were present and the afternoon was an exceptionally pleasant one. Mesdames Moss and McKinstry served the guests with sherbet and wafers.

A number of the young people gave a small but very delightful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Goettsche on Wednesday. The event was in honor of Mrs. O. D. McAllister and Miss Iva McAllister, who are visiting here from Roseburg. Strawberries and cream and angel cake were served to the guests. Those present were Mrs. A. C. Goettsche, Mrs. O. D. McAllister; Misses Iva McAllister, Merle Caldwell, Hazel Morey, Fay Sill; Messrs. Fred Wilcox, Rod Calvert, Lloyd Dyer, Clyde Martin.

The promenade given by the members of the Masonic Social club at the Coliseum rink on last Friday night was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable affairs which has occurred in social circles for some time. There were about 40 couples present and those having the affair in charge spared no pains to make the event one of perfect harmony and enjoyment to all participating. At 9 o'clock the dance opened with a grand march, after which the dancing continued uninterrupted until 1 o'clock. A six-piece orchestra furnished the music and punch was served to the dancers during the evening. The beautiful costumes of the ladies and faultless evening suits of the gentlemen were features which entered largely into the success of the evening and made the event one to be remembered as among the most enjoyable of the season.

On Tuesday afternoon the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Newman M. E. church entertained nearly a hundred people at the church parlors, at their regular monthly social meeting. The day was rather a bad one and it was hardly expected that so large a number would attend, but the slight showers were not sufficient to keep the ladies away from the meeting, as they knew by previous attendance that they would miss a treat should they be absent. A short, but very interesting program was rendered, which consisted of an instrumental solo by Mrs. Foster, a reading by Mrs. E. A. Wade, and an address on W. C. T. U. work by Mrs. A. B. Church. Refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served; the ladies entertaining being: Mesdames Norton, Henkle, Isham, Van Louva, Martin, Sablin, Fallin and Dr. Cora Lemon.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church held their regular monthly business and social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perdue on Third street Tuesday evening. A considerable amount of business was on the docket and the young people went to work with a will to dispatch the same and it was done in a very creditable manner. One of the principal items of interest to come before the meeting was the question of remodeling and fixing up the club rooms of the society. A committee was appointed to see to this matter and the rooms, reception room, kitchen and serving room are to be given special attention and the rooms will soon be ready for use with all the modern requirements and furnishings of an energetic and up-to-date society—and, although the president was not able to smile for about a week on account of a bad attack of poison oak, he is now able to grin a little, and the smile is slowly but surely reforming on his countenance. A jolly social evening was enjoyed after the business was dispatched, there being about 20 members and friends present. Refreshments were served before the meeting adjourned.

The afternoon teas given each month by the Ladies' Auxiliary to members and newcomers have become a very important feature of the Auxiliary work, and are looked forward to each month with much pleasure. There are many new comers in our city at present, and the auxiliary members should make a special effort this coming Saturday to reach as many as possible. It is hoped no one will wait for a special invitation, as all are invited.

In honor of the birthdays of the following, Mesdames Lillian Peters, Estella Howard, Mary Gould, Minnie Britton, Miss Anna Britton, all of Grants Pass, and H. L. McMahan, of Gold Hill, a picnic party was held in Rogue River park on Sunday afternoon. At 3 o'clock the bountiful dinner was spread under the trees and when all were seated the lady guests of honor were presented with a beautiful rose jar, while the gentleman received a gold stickpin. After dinner floral postcards were presented to each member and the names of all the guests present were written on the cards to be kept as souvenirs of this delightful birthday party. Those in attendance were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John Summers and daughter, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Britton, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burton, Mrs. Lillian Peters, Mrs. Mary Gould, Mrs. Mary Britton; Misses Laura Sullivan, Anna Britton, Inez Howard, Lois Britton, Hazel Sturgeon, Mable, Ada and Ina Gould; Messrs. M. J. Howard, Harley Britton, Elmer Howard, Hazel Britton, Stanley Summers, Irwin Gould and Glen Howard. These six birthday anniversaries all coming in the same month made the affair all the more pleasant and one to be remembered with pleasure not only to the ones in whose honor the celebration was given but to every guest present the affair was one that will be a pleasant remembrance in the years to come.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fryer in Lincoln Park was the scene of a merry gathering of ladies on Thursday afternoon, the event being a reception in honor of Mrs. Jessie Coran Dunlap, of Portland, and Mrs. Blanche Dean Harvey, of Marshfield. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Arthur Fryer and Mrs. Herman Horning, and the charming manner in which they entertained this guests left no doubt in the minds of those present as to their unexcelled ability in this line. When the guests had arrived tables were placed on the wide veranda and progressive whist was soon occupying the minds of the party. At 5 o'clock the score cards were gathered up and it was found that Mrs. Amos Smith headed the list and she received first prize, a beautiful china plate, while Dot Cook brought up the rear and was presented with a package of chewing gum and a lemon for her efforts. The guests were then summoned to the dining room, where all were seated at the long table, on which a massive bunch of crimson roses formed a beautiful centerpiece for the snowy damask, while a beautiful rose was placed at each cover. The dainty luncheon was served in two courses, the first course consisting of shrimp salad and crackers, after which luscious red strawberries with whipped cream and cake were served. A large bowl of punch on the sideboard did service through each course. Music and conversation formed a conspicuous part in the entertainment of the afternoon, and there was not a shadow to darken the sunshine of this merry gathering. Before departing for home a photograph of the guests was taken on the steps of the verandah. Those present besides the hostesses were as follows: Mesdames

Amos Smith, G. O. O'ium, Tom Harvey, Otto Dunlap, Warren Burt, Herman Young, Alice Carlon, James Gibson; Misses Claudine and Georgia Coran, Vera Reymers, Maude and Myrtle Baber, Ruth Dean and Dot Cook.

The home of the Misses Ethelyn and Claire Bartlett was the scene of one of the most unique and pleasing showers of the season on last Wednesday evening, May 11, the fortunate recipient being Miss Kittle Loughridge. After all the guests had arrived Miss Loughridge was presented with a white rose from each one, bearing a card with the sentiments of the giver expressed in verse, the reading of which afforded considerable amusement. The company then went on an imaginary wedding trip. This was a guessing game, the answers to which were American cities. For having the greatest number of correct answers Miss Wilna Gilkey received a box of bon bons, while the Misses Sadie Pence and Bella Letcher shared the booty, a box of pop corn candy. After an impromptu program Miss Loughridge was presented with a "Silent Partner," who proved to be a broom attired in bonnet and apron and bearing many packages. The gifts were as varied as they were useful and beautiful. The guests were then invited to the dining room, where they were served with delicious ice cream and cake. The place cards were in the form of pink hearts. So thoroughly enjoyable was every feature of the evening that the party did not break up until a late hour. Those present were: Miss Bella Letcher, Sadie Pence, Lolo McDow, Merle Spalding, Wilna Gilkey, Emma Loughridge, Zora Perry, Alma Wolke, Kate Newell, Ethelyn and Claire Bartlett.
