Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook were Grants Pass visitors one day this week.

The pupils of the Winona school gave a pleasant party at the hall on Jump-Off-Joe Friday night. Good music was furnished and the large assemblage enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. It was a genuine sociable time, not entirely lacking in formality, and just such a gathering and neighborly intercourse as can not be well improved on. The young ladies in charge deserve much credit for the entertainment. A lountiful lunch was served. Meritt and Hugo were well represented. This place also sent a large delegation, and all are awaiting another call to a similar event.

The Daily Courier is much appreciated here by those who read it. More copies would come here if the mail service were better. Frequently the paper goes up on train 16, and gets here the next day on 13. Thus news that would be read here the day of publication is 18 hours behind time. A betterment of the service in this respect would be appreciated here and a benefit to The Courier's publisher.

SELMA

In the past two weeks John Baird and Miller Jefferson have been in the hills hunting for cattle. Mr. Baird and Mr. Jefferson had several close calls with mean cattle, which caused them to be stiffened up in the knees.
