WILLIAMS ITEMS.

S. M. Wertz is making semi-weekly trips to Grants Pass these days, hauling his hay to market.

Thanksgiving was fittingly celebrated in Williams. The Brethren church held a picnic out on the grass in front of the school house which was participated in by the whole neighborhood. It was a beautiful day; the grounds were resplendent with gaily dressed young people who had gathered together for a good feed and an enjoyable time. The turkey, duck, chicken and a good many toothsome dainties showed a rare discrimination in the selection of articles for the repast. Every one had his appetite appeased and then went in and heard the Rev. Mr. Lininger expound the gospel. Altogether the day was admirably spent.

The M. E. church will hold quarterly meetings beginning Thursday night and continuing the rest of the week. The Rev. Mr. Mowray, presiding elder, will help Mr. Ragan conduct these meetings. Here is a great opportunity for everyone to hear some good sermons as rarely do we have a chance to hear the bible explained by such competent authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Real of Ashland are the very welcome visitors at the home of Mr. Real's sister, Mrs. Frank Sutton.

The bridge over Williams creek is progressing rather slowly. Someone is guilty of negligence in not pushing this work after the county has expended so much money in filling in and preparing for the bridge. We have had an unusual amount of nice weather this fall, but the rains will not hold off forever, and after the creek raises the work of putting in concrete foundations will be difficult.

MISSOURI FLAT.

Literary will commence again next Saturday night. We hope to see a big crowd present and get up a good program and debate for the next meeting.

The entertainment and box social Thursday night, November 30, was a very successful affair. The program was given by the school under the supervision of Mrs. Hyde. Some fine musical numbers were given by Mrs. Wm. Young and Mrs. A. W. Guthrie. The boxes were plentiful and well filled. Forty were sold at an average of $1 each. The money will be used for the benefit of the library. J. L. Wooldridge was auctioneer and finished selling the boxes at 11:30, when supper was called and was made complete by a big boiler of coffee, which the ladies had prepared.

Mr. McCallister of Grants Pass is logging for the winter run at the sawmill this week.

Mrs. Clara Hoag's mother, who has spent the summer here, will leave soon for her home in the east.

J. N. Butler and sons moved to their homestead one day last week.

Howard Lydy made a flying trip to Woodville last week.

This week seems to be a regular hog killing time. Oh, no, we didn't mean the $200.00 bond system, but several of our farmers were actually butchering some fine hogs.

Pearl Davidson recently came home from Albany and Portland, where she had spent several days visiting.

A bet easily won, "Smith was elected mayor of G. P."
