F. G. BURNS TO BE BURIED SATURDAY

Funeral services for F. G. Burns, the Oregon-California pioneer who died at his home in Grants Pass Tuesday as a result of paralysis, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the M. E. church in this city. Interment will be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mr. Burns is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Burns, and seven children. Three children are dead. The living are Mrs. Sarah Strong, of Myrtle Point; J. T. Burns, Sacramento, Cal.; Mark L. Burns, Dorris, Cal.; R. G. Burns, Grants Pass; Wiley Burns, Portland; Mrs. Mary Fetsch, Lakeview, Oregon; Mrs. Calley Stearns, British Columbia. All of the children except Mrs. Strong and Mrs. Stearns will be present at the funeral. Mrs. Fetsch will arrive here Friday evening.

Mr. Burns was stricken several weeks ago with paralysis, but had so far improved as to be able to walk about his home. Monday morning when he went to the breakfast table he remarked that he felt better than for some time and seemed to relish the food more than for some days. During this meal, however, Mr. Burns was stricken the second time with paralysis and the end came next day.

The dead pioneer had lived in Grants Pass 16 years. He crossed the plains to the Pacific coast in 1856, locating in California, where he engaged in mining. He left California about the year 1874, coming to Oregon.

J. L. MYERS RETURNS FROM ORIOLE MINE

Former Mayor J. L. Myers, who recently spent a week at the Oriole mine in Galice district, of which his nephew, H. G. Rice, is foreman, states that all work above and underground at the Oriole is of the highest class, and that splendid results have been obtained for every dollar expended.

Electric lighted throughout, the drifts and tunnels of the big property show up to great advantage. The lighting is generated from water power, and the current is used for compressor and other needs, as well as lights.

The Oriole people are now anxious to begin milling and expect to have the plant erected at an early date.

Large ore reserves are blocked out and when both mine and mill are going the result in gold bullion will be highly satisfactory.

SLEEPY HOLLOW FARM IS CREDIT TO VALLEY.

One of the best producing farms in the Rogue River valley is located fourteen miles east of Grants Pass on the north bank of Rogue river. The property is known as the Sleepy Hollow farm. There are 100 acres in alfalfa and this yields 300 tons annually. Part of this product is fed to a herd of Short Horn cattle and also to Berkshire hogs. These three industries are worked together in a most profitable manner. There are several hundred acres that make up the farm and the property is being improved from month to month and year to year.

The Sleepy Hollow farm belongs to Mrs. A. D. Ensign, formerly of Hollywood, Cal., who lives on the place and is assisted in the management by her son, H. E. Ensign. The superintendent is Harvey Bimson, who is an expert alfalfa grower as well as an experienced breeder of cattle and swine.

On the farm are three large alfalfa barns. One is 41x156, and 30 feet high, and two smaller ones. There are two fine residences on the property and taken all together Sleepy Hollow farm has a good look and is a credit to the Rogue River valley.
