In Honor of Mrs. J. M. Kemp—
Mrs. J. M. Kemp, who has spent the winter with relatives in various parts of Kansas and at Chicago, returned last week to her home in this city. On Saturday afternoon she was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Herrick, who entertained in her honor, with Mrs. C. H. Woodward and Mrs. G. C. Sabin also as guests. The afternoon was pleasantly spent by the four ladies, and luncheon was served at 5 o'clock.

Do They or Don't They?
Do people read the ads in The Courier? We claim that there isn't a better read paper in this part of the state and one of our best advertisers, the Grants Pass Hardware Co., will try the matter out next Saturday by offering regulation size razors, 1000 of them, for the ridiculously low price of 25c each. And a stipulation is that if the razor doesn't suit the purchaser it will be taken back and 50c allowed on the purchase price of any razor in the house, safety or other styles. This razor sale is for one day only, Saturday, March 30, with but one razor to a customer. The result of this advertising of this article will be watched with interest. It would look like a good guess that there are at least one hundred be-whiskered readers of this paper who will swap the price of less than two shaves for a razor that many times no doubt, is sold for four or five times 25c.

Mrs. T. B. Cornell is enjoying a visit from her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomas, who arrived Saturday from Silver Lake, Cal. The guests will remain several weeks visiting other relatives besides Mrs. Cornell.

F. F. Metschan left Saturday evening for Portland, where he went to be present at a family reunion in honor of the birthday anniversaries of his father, Phil Metschan, and son, Phil Metschan, Jr. The double birthday celebration took place Sunday, March 24, with all members of the family present. Dr. E. Metschan and wife of this city, went to Portland several days ago.

MAY SOON BUILD HOTEL AT JOSEPHINE CAVES

An important enterprise has recently been started by Grants Pass parties, which, if carried through, will add greatly to the business interests of this city and make this section one of the best advertised localities in the northwest. The enterprise proposed is the building of an automobile road from Holland to the Josephine caves, and the erection of a tourist hotel at that place which is to cost $25,000. This capital has been put up by Portland parties and they will, if opportunity is offered by the government, build the road and complete the hotel, so that business can be done this season.

The plan is to have an auto service from Grants Pass by way of Holland to the caves temporarily. This will bring Grants Pass into prominence through the advertising which will be done by the hotel people and the Southern Pacific company.

This tourist trade will greatly help the hotels and all other interests here, as this will be the tourist supply point.

The Portland capitalists are ready to begin construction of the road at once, and as soon as it is completed from Holland, a distance of four miles, the material for the construction of the hotel will be put on the ground. This hotel is to be on the same plan as the "Cloud Cap Inn" on Mt. Hood. The capital necessary is now available, and operations were to have been begun March 15, but there has been a delay in the issuance of a permit from the forest service. This matter is reported to be now before the secretary of agriculture for approval, which is expected daily.

H. V. Anderson, who was connected with the forest service up to a few weeks ago, has been in Portland for some time working on this project and resigned his place in the service in order to take charge of the construction. Mr. Anderson reports the local forest officials to be favorable to the project, and apparently there is nothing in the way except the red tape of the government.

It is the plan to begin immediately on the road up Sucker creek, that being the shortest route for taking in the building material and the transporting of an electric plant to be used in lighting the caves. A much shorter route from Grants Pass can be had via Williams, and the intention is to have this constructed later.

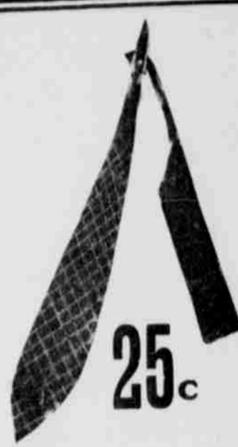

Congressman W. C. Hawley was requested by Grants Pass people to secure government aid in the construction of a road by this route and the matter will be brought before congress this year.

Mr. Anderson says that plans are ready and that there is nothing to prevent the securing of considerable tourist travel this season except the seemingly unnecessary delay in getting permission from the forestry department. The formal application was filed February 9, and it is hoped a few days more will bring returns.

Water rights for furnishing power to light the caves have already been secured through the state engineer. It is certainly to be regretted that the general government cannot act as promptly in such matters as the state.

SAVAGE CREEK SCHOOL MOVED TO NEW SITE.

Plans are afoot to move the Savage creek schoolhouse to Savage Rapids on Rogue river and to put the old foot bridge now at Woodville at the site of the new location for the school. The change in the location of the building is to be undertaken for the benefit of new settlers moving in across the river. The proposed site at Savage rapids is now the center of population for the district.

It is also proposed to cut off a part of the Jones creek district and Woodville district and attach it to the Savage rapids district. To carry these plans into effect they must be approved by the boundary boards of both Josephine and Jackson counties, as the district lies in the two counties; also permission must be had from County Superintendent Lincoln Savage of Josephine and County Superintendent Wells of Jackson county. It is hoped to have all matters adjusted and the school building moved and in shape for the fall term.

If moved, this will be the second site for the building. In previous days it stood on the Schiefflen donation, opposite where Woodville now is located. The Savage district is the fourth oldest in the valley, having been organized sometime between 1858 and 1860.
