Mistaken Identity—
"Slim" Jones, who recently jumped the bond which he had given in a Merlin liquor case, was reported in Gold Beach Tuesday, and W. I. Sweetland, one of his bondsmen, was appointed a deputy sheriff, and started for Gold Beach to bring him home. On reaching Waldo, however, Mr. Sweetland was notified that it was a case of mistaken identity, not being "Slim" at all, and he returned to Grants Pass without his man.

The gold is to be produced in court, and distributed according to court instructions.

R. E. Stebbins, who came here from Portland recently in charge of the big trucks brought to haul ore from the mines and to do local trucking, and J. Eatch, one of the truck drivers, tried to settle a difference of opinion Wednesday morning by might and muscle. Hubert Cahill, of Hugo, celebrated the Fourth of July by killing his first bear. The animal was of the black species and weighed about 200 pounds.

Mr. Findley stated that he would be in Grants Pass later with rainbow and eastern brook trout which are to be planted in the smaller streams of the country.

Two more automobile trucks have been seen on the streets of Grants Pass the past week. One of them, a 5-ton Pierce Arrow, arrived the Fourth, having been driven in from Portland, and is intended for hauling gravel and crushed rock for Grants Pass street improvement work. Horse Commits Suicide—
A horse belonging to C. H. Peterson was drowned Thursday by walking off the bluff into the river near the white rocks, a half mile above this city. Being blind, and likely injured by the fall of twenty or more feet to the water, the equine was unable to find his way to the shore, and his corpse finally hung up on the old dam just below the bridge. Being at about the exact middle of the river, there was some conflict of opinion as to whether it was a matter for the county or city to deal with in disposing of the body, and it was still unmentioned the scenery late yesterday afternoon, though removed later in the evening.

Railroad From Grants Pass Is the Report

The report comes from Portland that the building of a railroad up the Applegate river from Grants Pass to the Blue Ledge mining district has been financed.

While no verification of the report has been obtained at this writing, those who are best in touch with local railroad matters believe that it is substantial, and that the road is to be constructed at once.

The report, as published in the Portland Journal of Thursday evening, is as follows:

"A railroad to cost $1,000,000 and to extend 52 miles from Grants Pass up the Applegate river has been financed and authorized by the owners of the copper mines in the Blue Ledge mining district. The contract for the rails has been let, the final survey is to be made at once and the contract for the construction of the road will be let soon. The building of this railroad is to solve an old and serious transportation problem of the Southern Oregon and Northern California district. A first effort was made to induce the Southern Pacific to build it as a spur, connecting with their lines at Grants Pass. This effort failed. E. M. Chester, local agent of the eastern capitalists who are financing the road, has been in Portland several days completing final arrangements for the construction. The road will be partly in agricultural, partly in mining country."

BRITTON WILL BUILD MURPHY GRANGE HALL.

E. W. Britton, of the city, was the successful bidder for the erection of the new hall to be built at Murphy, his bid of $1,787 being the lowest of the eleven that were submitted. Work is to be commenced within the next week, and the building completed within thirty days.

The structure will be 40x92 feet in size, and two stories high. The upper floor will contain what is promised to be "absolutely the best dance floor in Southern Oregon," and from instructions that have been given the builder, the promise is sure to be made good.

As soon as the building is ready for occupancy a series of entertainments and social parties are planned, from the proceeds of which the hall will be cleared of indebtedness. Murphy has never had to take a back seat when it came to entertaining its friends, and with a modern hall and lodge room it will likely surpass its present reputation.

Gov. Wilson Takes Day Off and Works. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 10.—Fatigued by the two weeks of almost continual receptions that he has held at Sea Girt, Governor Wilson today utilized much of his time in Atlantic City to catch up on his correspondence. He did not appear until nearly noon.

Governor Wilson's day in Atlantic City was planned to be brief. At noon he was to lay the cornerstone of the Y. M. C. A. and at 2 p. m. he was scheduled to address the annual convention of the National Building & Loan association on the steel pier. "I am here as governor of New Jersey and not as a presidential candidate," he said, and added that politics would have no place in his talks.
