

ROOSEVELT NOMINATED.

and at its conclusion a great roar of cheering literally drowned out the hands which joined in with the wave of shouting.

Great Demonstration.

It was just 2:11 when Frendergast's peroration started the outburst which followed his speech. The delegates stood on chairs, waving their handkerchiefs and cheering. A woman in the gallery lowered a big American flag, to which had been attached a big photograph of Colonel Roosevelt. The pandemonium broke loose, the din of the demonstration being deafening.

Then the New York delegates started a procession of standards through the aisles. New Hampshire, North Carolina, Arizona, West Virginia, Ohio and Texas followed, the delegates keeping step to martial airs furnished by a veteran life and drum corps. General McDowell, a Confederate officer, led in the cheering, waving an American flag.

After the cheering had lasted twenty minutes, the files and drummers fled into the aisles and headed the procession, adding to the enthusiasm with "Dixie" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

When 30 minutes of uproar had passed a new American flag with a circular arrangement of the stars was dropped from the girders of the Coliseum and the entire assembly stopped cheering and sang "America."

The enthusiasm, however, redoubled as the song ended and Beveridge, who had tried for order, dropped back into his chair, all a-grip.

Mrs. Roosevelt Saluted.

At the height of the demonstration, Mrs. Roosevelt entered the hall and was given the Chautauqua salute with bandanas. The band started up "D. You Beautiful Doll," and Mrs. Roosevelt smiled although greatly embarrassed.

Lindsey Seconds Nomination.

Lindsey called Roosevelt "the one man in America who fights the fight of the average man." He said the only real opposition to the former president came from "dishonest business" and insisted that the colonel was sure to win in November. Lindsey concluded.

"Dishonest business fears Roosevelt more than it does any other living man because he is just in everything."

Jane Addams of Chicago was then recognized and got one of the greatest demonstrations of the convention as she began her speech. She said in part:

"The new party will become the American exponent of a world-wide movement towards more just social conditions. I second the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt, because he is one of the few men in public life who has been responsive to the social appeal and who has caught the significance of the modern movement. Because of that and because the program will require a leader of invincible courage, open mind, democratic sympathies, endowed with the power to interpret the common man and who will identify himself with the common lot, I second the nomination."

"Votes for Women."

When Jane Addams concluded her speech, she unfurled a big yellow "Votes for Women" banner, and the women delegates started a procession of their own about the hall.

When order was restored, Colonel Alexander Hamilton of Georgia, General H. C. King of New York and T. P. Boyd of Florida, seconded Roosevelt's nomination.

WIFE BEATING CHARGE AGAINST JOHN KRUSSELL.

John Krussell, who lives in the Murphy district, was arrested by Constable Handle Wednesday afternoon on a complaint sworn out by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Van Dyke, charging assault and battery.

The crime is alleged to have been committed last Sunday when Krussell beat his wife till her shoulders and arms were black and blue, the woman being confined to her bed since the assault. It is said that Krussell had been away from home, and that the wife sent for him to come and do some needed work on the place, the assault following his arrival.

Krussell was brought to Grants Pass and arraigned before Justice Holman, where he entered a plea of not guilty. He has demanded a jury trial, which will be held this afternoon.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

It cost John Krussell $20, or its equivalent of 10 days in the county jail, for having beaten his wife till her arms and shoulders were black and blue.

Krussell was tried before a jury Wednesday evening in Judge Holman's court on a charge of assault and battery, the complainant being Deputy Prosecutor Van Dyke, and Mrs. Krussell, wife of the defendant, the person assaulted.

The witnesses who testified in the case were the wife and the two young daughters of Krussell for the state, and Krussell himself for the defense.

The evidence developed the fact that six months ago Mrs. Krussell had gone to Los Angeles to enter a hospital for treatment, taking the girls with her. She received no word or the necessary cash for support from Krussell during the six months, and a couple of weeks ago came to Grants Pass. On her arrival here, the husband refused to live with her, but did agree to support her and the two girls if they would reside on the Krussell farm at Murphy. They removed to the farm, and Krussell deposited $5 in the Murphy store for their support.

Krussell was working on an adjoining farm, and Monday afternoon the wife sent him a note, asking that he come to the Krussell home, stating that she wanted him to clean out a well, the water in which was unfit for use.

There was some conflict in the testimony of husband and wife regarding the battle that followed. Mrs. Krussell, who is regarded as an invalid, said that the bruises upon her arms and shoulders were caused by a beating which the husband gave her with a fir stick which he took away from her. She said that he stuffed her mouth full of dirty rags, and attempted to spank her in the good old fashioned way.

The wife's testimony was corroborated by the two little girls, 7 and 11 years of age, one of whom testified to having seen the father strike the mother at least five times.

Mr. Krussell testified that he used only such force as was necessary to protect himself, the wife having struck at him with a stick, and called him a "dirty skunk." He said that the wife was the "strongest slob woman he ever saw," and that if she had bruises on her back, they were probably caused by being dragged over the ground when he was trying to escape her clutches, and he exhibited a torn shirt, a scratched neck, and a head from which he said much hair was missing in evidence.

The jury deliberated but a few minutes and returned a verdict of guilty, whereupon Judge Holman assessed a fine of $20, in default of the payment of which Krussell is in the county jail. It will require ten days of jail to equalize the fine.

The jury that heard the case was composed of Wm. Atchison, Elmer Balsinger, E. G. Harris, Sam Williams, G. A. Savage and John Patrick. Attorney Johnston represented the defendant, and made a strong plea for his client.

WILSON SEES ADVISERS.

SEAGURT, N. J., Aug. 8.—Woodrow Wilson left his summer home here today for New York. The democratic presidential nominee will remain away two days conferring with his political advisers and posing for campaign photographs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Baldwin and two children arrived Wednesday night from Medford to spend two weeks with Mr. Baldwin's sister, Mrs. D. C. Chapman.

PROGRESS BEING MADE ON NEW CITY CHARTER

The new city charter, which is proposed for adoption to supersede the one now in force, is officially before the council, having been reported to that body some time ago by the special committee, and at the last session of the town if copies were ordered made, and a comprehensive study of the document was commenced. The council will pass upon the new charter section by section, approving or changing the handling of the various subjects.

The old charter was followed in a great many of its features, many sections being word for word the same. The first essential and radical departure from the old is in the manner of the government of the city, the make-up of the council, and the power and authority of the mayor.

At present the city is governed by a mayor and eight councilmen, the mayor being elected for a term of one year, while the councilmen are elected from the wards and serve two years each. The new charter provides for a council of but four members, elected at large within the city, each councilman to serve for a period of four years. Should the new charter be adopted two members of the council will be elected for two years and two for four at the election following, but thereafter two will be elected every two years to serve for the full term of four years. The council is made legislative instead of administrative, the mayor being the administrative officer of the city, and the charter provides that he shall have the exclusive supervision and control of all the business and affairs of the municipality.

The mayor shall give his exclusive time and attention to the management of the city affairs, for which he shall receive a salary of $2,500 per year. He must give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of not less than $10,000. He shall preside over the meetings of the common council, but shall have no vote except in case of a tie, when he shall cast the deciding vote on all questions. He shall at least once a year file with the city recorder a financial statement showing the condition, financial or otherwise, of the city, and of all financial business transacted by or for it during the preceding year, which statement shall be kept on file with the city recorder, and subject, during all business hours to public inspection. Said financial statement shall be published if the common council by ordinance or resolution, shall provide and require.

The mayor shall have the appointing power and shall appoint all administrative officers under him provided for by the charter, and he shall be responsible for the performance of the duties of such officers; and he shall have power of removal in his discretion, and of making further appointments as may in his discretion be deemed for the best interests of the city, and may require of any officer by him appointed, a bond conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties.

It shall be the duty of the mayor personally or through his appointee to execute and carry into effect, all ordinances and resolutions that may be passed and adopted by the common council; and the mayor shall be responsible personally and upon his bond for the due and faithful performance of all executive and administrative acts required of him by any ordinance or resolution, expressly or by implication to carry the same into full force and effect, and fully accomplish the express or implied objects and purposes thereof.

The mayor shall appoint an auditor and police judge and a city attorney, whose duties and qualifications shall be as herein provided. The mayor shall also appoint such other police and administrative officers as may from time to time be provided for by ordinances enacted by the common council, but the mayor shall have full discretionary power of removal and of appointment of their successor or successors from time to time.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS WOULD AVERT STRIKE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Officials of the City Railways here are conferring today with the leaders of the 10,600 employees in the hope of averting a strike. If no agreement can be reached the dispute will be arbitrated. The other companies will probably accept the settlement made by the City Railways' company.

ROGUE RIVER LIME CO. TO BUILD TRAMWAY

The Rogue River Lime company, which has been doing a great amount of development work on its property on Cheney creek, a branch of the Applegate, sixteen miles southwest of Grants Pass, has decided to install a tramway at the quarry.

This company has lately completed a road up the creek to the point where the lime rock supply was to be obtained, and contemplated putting in the kilns at that place. The new road had a grade of from 15 to 25 per cent, however, this being too steep for the caterpillar traction engine to negotiate with ease. To do away with this climb a half-mile tramway will be erected to deliver the rock at the bottom of the grade, and the kilns will be constructed and the lime burned there.

To transport the lime to Grants Pass for shipment, the big 60-horse power traction engine of the caterpillar type, received last fall, will be employed. This will haul the three great trucks, each of which will have a capacity of ten tons, or thirty tons at a trip. It is expected that the caterpillar will make two trips per day when a night crew is put on, delivering 60 tons in this city every 24 hours.

Kilns of the most modern type are to be built and the industry will be developed into one of the big commercial interests of Southern Oregon. The capital behind the enterprise is supplied by Portland men, who are the incorporators and stockholders.

The rock, which is found in inexhaustible quantity, burns into the best grade of lime, and kilns have been burned in a small way for fifty years.

BOY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

T. E. Wall, a former resident of Lyons, in Lynn county, who was going through the country enroute to Oklahoma, with his family, in an automobile, met with an accident to the machine Saturday night in which his son, Claude, aged 17, was severely injured.

Mr. Wall had made camp at Rogueriver, where he left his family while the machine was brought to a garage in Grants Pass to have repairs made. Late Saturday night he came to drive the machine back to Rogueriver. The boy came down the road to meet him, and was riding on the running board of the machine when the sharp curve at the Green's creek crossing was approached. Mr. Wall made the first curve all right, but the steering gear locked and the reverse curve was not taken, and the automobile, a forty-horse power Enger, plunged down the six foot embankment, crushing the boy badly between the side of the machine and a leaning tree that stood by the roadside. The car turned on its side, Mr. Wall riding it through safely.

Dr. Ellsworth and wife, who were driving along the highway at the time of the accident, offered first aid to the injured man, and a little later Carl Gentner's car, with a party, assisted in conveying the injured boy to Grants Pass, where he was attended by Dr. Smith. No bones were broken, but the hips and side of the lad were severely bruised. Serious results are not anticipated, although it will be some days before he can be up and around again.

FROM SAN BERNARDINO BY WAY OF CRATER LAKE.

Three automobiles from San Bernardino, Cal., leaving home July 17, arrived in the city Monday and will make Grants Pass their headquarters for a few days. The party is composed of Dr. and Mrs. Lyman, traveling in a Warren-Detroit; J. D. Gentry and W. E. Vardy, traveling in the "Coyote," a Ford, and V. O. Buckies, also driving a Ford. The "Coyote" is a remodeled car built to suit the demands of the trip, and on the end of the big gasoline tank is printed the legend "San Bernardino to Rogue River." They have reached their destination and after a few days of fishing and hunting will start on the return trip, going first to Crescent City and then down the coast. LATE RETURNS INDICATE STUBBS FOR KANSAS SENATOR.

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 8.—Late returns today from Tuesday's primary election indicate that Governor W. R. Stubbs has defeated Charles Curtis, incumbent, for the United States senatorship. Stubbs claimed this morning to have carried 85 of the 105 counties in the state, and later returns increased this lead. Returns from the western counties are coming in slowly.

If Stubbs is finally shown to have been elected, the progressives will have made a clean sweep of the state. The latest returns received here increase the majorities of eight Roosevelt presidential electors.
