

PACIFIC OUTLOOK SUBSCRIPTION IS COURIER'S

The subscription list of the Pacific Outlook, which suspended publication with its issue of October 10, has been consolidated with that of the Courier, and those who had made payment in advance for the Outlook will receive the Weekly Courier instead.

With the passing of the Outlook is closed the story of a publication that has had more or less of a place in Southern Oregon journalistic history for the past fifteen years. In 1897 the Oregon Mining Journal was started in Grants Pass by Judge John L. Childs of Crescent City. Attorney Wade secured control soon after the birth of the new Journal, and Arthur Conklin became associated with him and a little later assumed full management which he continued till two years ago, when Wm. R. Brower contracted for the plant and conducted the business till last week, when the paper was discontinued and the plant turned back to Mr. Conklin.

For the first twelve years of its existence the paper was published as a mining journal, and for a time was the representative mining publication of the state. It later left the list of class publications, however, and changing its name to that of the Pacific Outlook, entered the local field, but like many other attempts that are often made to invade a two-paper field with a third paper, it was not at all times a financial success.

Previous to Mr. Brower's assuming the control H. S. Prescott served as editor and relieved Mr. Conklin of the details of the business management.

Through the combining of the two subscription lists advertisers can reach the clientele of both publications through a single advertising rate, no advance being made in the charges by the Courier.

amount paid for by the city out of the public fund, even at the reduced rate would amount to $12,000 per year. These items make a total annual revenue of $110,000, besides eliminating the present cost of water and lights paid for by the city, which aggregates about $7,000 per year.

At such time as the market for power should justify the completion of the power plant to say 5,000 horse power, giving a surplus not taken into consideration in the foregoing, even at the possible low rate of $24 per horse power per year, would make an additional revenue of $90,000 per year.

Revenues from 20,000 acres of land at $40 $ 80,000
Revenues from city for water and lights 110,000
Revenues from the sale of 10,000 h. p. of electric energy at $24 per h. p. per year 240,000

Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Antonio Caruso, charged with responsibility for the death at Lawrence of Anna Lopez, a woman textile striker, urged the strikers to violence during the Lawrence industrial struggle last winter, was given here today by Charles Bernardo, an Italian detective.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT THE MUSIC CLUB

A considerable number of musical enthusiasts braved the elements on Tuesday evening to attend the regular meeting of the Grants Pass Music club, which is endeavoring to encourage the spirit of song in this city.

By way of business, the matter of bringing David Bisjam, the famous singer, to Grants Pass was presented with the request that the club take hold of the matter of securing a guarantee fund of $500 for the attraction. As no one seemed to see anything in the present financial situation to warrant such an expensive attraction, it was passed by without any action.

A proposition from George P. Cramer to secure Search, the famous cellist, for a date here fared better and the chair appointed a committee to canvass the city and ascertain whether sufficient tickets could be disposed of to warrant the attraction.

The program, although reduced by the absence of two of the expected performers, was up to the usual standard of excellence.

Two grand numbers were given by the orchestra, which is making up in the finish of its performances what it lacks of its old-time strength of numbers.

J. M. Isham contributed the famous baritone solo, "The King of the Vikings," and responded to an encore.

Mrs. Barnes and Miss Pattillo blended their fine voices in a duet and responded with a beautiful little selection to an encore.

Joseph Wharton presented as a most pleasing and difficult clarinet selection, a passage from "Sonnambula," with the oboe solo from "William Tell" as an encore.

A beautiful passage from Mendelssohn's "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" arranged as a piano duet, was rendered by the Misses Shore and Roberts of the city schools.

A wondrously pathetic vocal number, "The Song of the Slave," was rendered by Miss Marjion Clarke, who was enthusiastically recalled by the audience.

With a view to encouraging the development of the younger voices, it was suggested by one member that the club secure the services of a competent vocal instructor, who should be given a standing contract to conduct a vocal class at a minimum price per number, thus affording elementary instruction at a low cost to those who are not in a position to take a regular course of vocal lessons.

Following the program there was the usual hour of sociability and the serving of dainty refreshments.

WEDDING BELLS.

Jas. T. Logan, one of the best known and most successful mining men of southern Oregon, was married at the parlors of the St. Francis hotel, in San Francisco, Tuesday evening to Miss Rosabelle York, of Ashland, but with a host of friends and acquaintances in this vicinity.

Few of the friends of the couple knew of the near approach of this culmination of a happy romance, and while surprise is expressed, there is always the adding of heartiest congratulations and well wishes.

Mr. Logan has resided in the Waldo district a number of years, and fortune smiled upon him in that undertaking as it has now in a matrimonial way.

After a short wedding trip through California Mr. and Mrs. Logan will return to Grants Pass and to their interests at Waldo.

WIRE DUFFERS.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Oct. 24.—George Loh here is a believer in drastic measures when it comes to love-making. His sweetheart refused to wed him so he shot at her and was arrested. Now the girl wants him.

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 23.

Neither Governor Wilson, Colonel Roosevelt nor President Taft will get Senator Root's LaFollette's vote at the national election in November. The position of the Wisconsin senator is clear today following his speech here last night opening the state campaign. "I intend to maintain an independent position in the presidential race," said LaFollette. "If Governor Wilson shows power as a progressive I want to help him, but I do not know what a two year progressive can do. I propose to fight him if he weakens under the pressure that is certain to be brought to bear."

BETTING FAVORS WILSON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Local betting on the election has begun in earnest and large sums are pouring into the commissioner's boxes. Tom Corbett, who handles thousands of dollars on every election, expects the election of November 5 to be one of the heaviest betting propositions in years. In the presidential fight Wilson is a strong favorite, his admirers offering 3 to 1 that he will be elected. These figures obtain in the case of Taft and Roosevelt.

VERNON BASEBALL TEAM DUE TO WIN PENNANT.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Vernon will win the 1912 coast league pennant, according to Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club, who is pitted against Hogan's Tigers this week.

"Oakland hit the toboggan two weeks ago," said the Beaver manager. "They have no fight left in them. Vernon is playing 50 per cent better ball than any team in the league. We are doing our best to hold Hogan's men down, but baseball luck seems against us."

SNOODGRASS IN CALIFORNIA.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Fred Snodgrass, the New York Giant outfielder whose error in the tenth inning of the deciding game cost him $1,500 and helped Boston to win the world's championship, is back in Los Angeles today. He expects to play winter baseball in southern California.

Snodgrass declined to discuss the world's series. Art Shafer accompanied Snodgrass from New York. Charles Hall, Boston pitcher, is expected at his home in Ventura in a few days.

FIRE DESTROYS GALICE PROPERTY

A disastrous fire occurred Sunday afternoon which destroyed the old Harry Lewis house at Galice, now the property of John M. Fenn and J. J. McKeever. The fire started from a defective flue in the office adjoining the dwelling and spread so rapidly that in 15 minutes the house was but a heap of ashes, and there was no opportunity to save any of the contents. Both Mr. McKeever and Mr. Fenn and families were at home but at the time of the fire all had gone to the barn to quell a disturbance among the stock.

Mr. Fenn states that the loss was complete with the exception of a diamond necklace and a few articles which were saved by a stream of water being played on the flames where the jewelry was kept. The loss will amount to fully $10,000 with no insurance. Valuables included household effects and wearing apparel, notes and bonds, money, law library and other books, and among other things a concession from Spanish Honduras giving exclusive permission to manufacture turpentine from 100,000 acres of pine timber.

This loss will not stop work on the property, and flume construction is being pushed as rapidly as possible to permit of mining as soon as the season opens. Mr. Fenn will build a handsome new residence on the flat back of the old site.

Mr. and Mrs. McKeever and Miss Belle Fenn left Tuesday afternoon for their home at Houston, Tex. They had planned on leaving Monday but were delayed a day on account of the fire.

RESCUERS PENETRATE MOUNT LYEELL MINE.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 23.—Rescuers who have been endeavoring to penetrate into the Mount Lyell mine, where the terrible disaster occurred a few days ago, reached the 700-foot level in an attempt to recover the bodies of the victims. They were unsuccessful, however, as the fire had extended still further into the workings. They describe conditions as likely to prevent the rescue of the dead bodies.

UNIFORM BOOKBINDING SYSTEM FOR COUNTIES.

SALEM, Oct. 23.—Governor West is today planning a scheme for installing a uniform system of keeping accounts in all the county governments of the state.
