A pretty romance precedes this wedding, as the bride has been the nurse who brought Mr. Bacon through to health from a recent illness.

SCOUTS IDEA OF DEFEAT OF TURK ARMY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Yussuf Selim Pasha, Turkish ambassador to the United States, declared here today that Constantinople is impregnable and that it will never be captured by the Italian allies.

There is no probability of massacre or pillage. If we are defeated, a new army equaling our present forces in the field, will be mobilized in Asia minor within two weeks.

He scouted all reports that the Turks have been routed and does not believe the Turks have asked the powers to intervene.

A. W. BUTLER PASSED AWAY LAST TUESDAY

A. W. Butler, for two years a resident of Grants Pass, died at the Good Samaritan hospital at an early hour Tuesday morning after a short sickness superinduced by acute indigestion.

Mr. Butler, who was about forty years of age, has suffered for some time from gastritis, and Sunday evening he was taken seriously ill while visiting at the home of friends, and was removed to the hospital where he was given every attention. No relief seemed possible for the sufferer, however, and death relieved him at four o'clock Tuesday morning.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been perfected, and will not be till word comes from a sister residing in Minnesota.

The deceased came here two years ago from Baker, Oregon, where he had been engaged in the mining industry. In Grants Pass he promoted and brought to a successful issue the new gas works and the Crystal Springs water proposition, and was also interested in mining. He was well thought of by his associates here, and his death was a decided shock. He was a member in good standing in Baker lodge No. 47, A. F. & A. M., and the local Masonic order is looking after the funeral arrangements here. His only known relative is a sister in Rochester, Minn., his former home. His parents are known to be dead. His father was for many years judge of the district court at Rochester, Minn.

Mr. Butler resided at the Colonial apartment house in this city.

A telegram received late from Mr. Butler's sister requests that the remains be shipped to Rochester for burial.

"JUD" PERNOLL RETURNS FROM DIAMOND

"Jud" Pernoll, one of the best liked and best known of Grants Passians, and one of the greatest left-handed baseball pitchers in the United States, formerly with the Aberdeen, Wash., and Portland clubs, later with the Detroit Tigers, and now a member of the 1912 champion Oakland team of the Pacific coast league, accompanied by Mrs. Pernoll, nee Miss Williams, of this city, arrived home last night for the winter, and to resume his business partnership in the Owl billiard parlors with George Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. Pernoll were accompanied by Mrs. E. Florey of Houston, Texas.

A Sundial That "Struck."

Paris is said to possess more sundials than any other city in the world. In the eighteenth century the sundial was popular in Paris. Every day at noon the sundial of the Palais Royal was the center of interest of an eager crowd. A writer tells of a "great crowd in the corner of the Palais Royal garden, standing motionless, with their noses in the air." Each was waiting for noon, having his watch in hand, ready to set at 12 o'clock. When the Duke of Orleans was altering the palace in 1782 the Parisians were much disturbed, thinking that they were to be deprived of their favorite sundial. But the duke not only preserved the sundial, but added to it a little powder magazine, which was so arranged that it exploded when the sunlight fell upon it, thus notifying every one who heard the explosion that the hour of noon had arrived. Later a cannon, which was discharged by the sun at noon, gave the signal.

Information Not Wanted.

A middle aged woman went into a shop and without hesitation made straight for the crape counter. The girl who handled this funeral material was extremely affable.

"We have a large stock of crapes," she explained. "Let me show you some new French goods, very popular at this time for every kind of mourning and designed to express every degree of grief. If you will tell me for whom you are in mourning I can fix you out in exactly the right thing."

"Husband," replied the customer briskly. "In that case," said the girl grateously. "I can tell you just what"— "Young lady," interrupted the older woman angrily, "you needn't bother yourself. This is the fourth husband I've buried, and I know all about it!"—St. Paul Dispatch

KILLS CHICAGO HOLDUP.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—One of two men who attempted to hold him up on the Washington boulevard here was shot and killed by Rutherford B. Cook, assistant secretary of the Chicago National League Baseball club. Cook, in explaining the shooting today, said the two men leaped from the automobile and ordered him to throw up his hands. Then, he said, he fired.

GREEKS WIN VICTORY OVER SULTAN'S ARMY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Dispatches here today to the Greek legation tell of a new Greek victory over the Turks. They say:

"The crown prince, instead of going direct to Salonika, made a detour and met the Turkish army entrenched at Yamatis Vadar. After a two days' battle the Turkish army is retreating. The Greeks captured many prisoners and fourteen field guns with much ammunition and are now pursuing the Turks along the road to Salonika."

Other dispatches received at the Greek legation say the Greek flag is floating over Prevesa where many Turks were captured. They also declare that two Turkish gunboats were sunk by Greek vessels in the Gulf of Salonika.

SEATTLE, Nov. 4.—H. L. Hubbard, a "smoke," was not allowed to act as a judge in an election booth by his white colleagues, on account of his color. He "stuck" around the booth until the last ballot was counted, however, and later "cashed in" his warrant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—After spending all day hunting ducks with a nary a bird to show, Wendell Walker, was held up by four highwaymen and robbed of his gun. And just for that, he is through with hunting, he says.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Entertaining friends, J. A. Darling intended to spring a little surprise in the shape of some fine champagne. When he went to get the "fizz" he found a burglar had been there first, leaving two empty bottles, and carrying away the rest with Darling's jewelry.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Forest Supervisor Charlton is the champion goat setter. In order to keep the trails in the forest reservation clear, he has 2,000 goats coming from Arizona. They have had no forest fires, according to Charlton.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—With ideal election weather prevailing, it was predicted today that 350,000 ballots would be cast in Chicago. This means that more than 80 per cent of the total registration will go to the polls. The voting everywhere in Illinois is reported heavy.

RAYMOND PLEASURES CROWD WITH MAGIC

The Great Raymond attracted a good audience at the opera house last night. The illusions performed by this master of magic completely baffled description, and those who were present showed their appreciation and delight by round after round of applause. To even attempt to describe what happens would simply be wasting time. Everything happens. The law of gravity is set at defiance by this modern wizard, water becomes wine, wine becomes water in front of one's very eyes, while beautiful young ladies appear and disappear miraculously.

This undoubtedly is the greatest magical show on earth. Raymond carries 70 tons of gorgeous scenery, stage settings and paraphernalia, and uses a small army of assistants. His assortment of tricks and illusions is so large it admits of change in a city three or four times without repetition. He presents several entirely new illusions that positively excel anything seen here before. Besides these features and his quickness of hand, Raymond indulges in a line of chatter that is witty, entertaining and dignified. He leaps from fun to witchcraft and you never see him make the leap. He keeps the interest unflagging all the way through a long performance and finishes as fresh as ever.

1913 Models of the Indian Motorcycle

Following the "14 Important Improvements" of 1912, the Hendee Mfg. Company announce no less than a dozen additional new features in their 1913 model of the Indian Motorcycle.

By far the most significant feature of the new machine is the Cradle Spring Frame. It is something entirely new, a radical departure from the conventional bicycle and recent motorcycle systems of "springing." Briefly, the new device consists of the application to the rear wheel of the Indian Cradle Spring device as used on the front fork for the past three years.

Extending back horizontally from the frame joint cluster under the saddle, flanking the rear mud guard, are two 7-leaf Chrome Vanadium steel springs. The "C" shaped cradle at the rear end of these springs are connected by stays to bell-cranks on which the rear axle is hung. The forward end of the rear fork has a hinge joint which enables the rear wheel to yield to imperfections of road surface. All shocks are completely absorbed by the leaf springs. The rear wheel can go through almost any vertical motion without affecting the body of the machine. There is no "bottom" to this spring device. The life of the machine is greatly increased.

The Engineering Department of the Hendee Mfg. Co. devoted 18 months of exhaustive test to the Cradle Spring Frame before finally deciding on its adoption for all models of the 1913 Indian.

In addition to the Cradle Spring Frame, the 1913 Indian embodies 18 other important improvements which will be appreciated by motorcycle riders in general. Prices remain the same as last year.

New style, single clutch rim; larger tires, wider mud guards front and rear with larger splashers; casing for upper stretch of transmission chain and curve of sprocket; larger luggage carrier in rear, fitted to all models; foot rests, as well as pedals, fitted to regular 4 h. p. and 7 h. p. models; foot brake lever fitted on left side now operates hand brake as well as the pedal action; larger size multiple disc clutch now fitted to all models alike; improved Indian type saddle.

All 1913 Indians will be chain driven and finished in Indian red only.
