HARVEST OF APPLES BEGINS IN ROGUE VALLEY.

(From Sunday's Daily.) The harvest of the "big red apples" will commence in the Grants Pass district next Monday, all the larger orchardists to commence picking at that time, and before the week is done the gathering of the crop will be on in earnest. The first of the fruit to be picked will be the Jonathans, followed immediately by the Spitzbergs and the Newtowns, though the big Elsin orchard will commence on Newtowns along with the Jonathans.

The apple crop will be of the best possible quality this season, and it has colored up in true Rogue river manner. The red apples are the bright, glossy red painted only by the glorious sun of southern Oregon, while the Newtowns take on the yellow of the gold of the hills. Shipping of the apples will probably not commence till later, as contracts have not yet been made for the sale of the crop. The present offers are good, but with the shortage in many parts of the world, and the assurance that the market will continue to strengthen, the growers have been slow to sell.

With the car of pears loaded out Saturday, the crop of that fruit is about cleaned up in this district, and there will be no further shipment till the Winter Nells is ready, when another car or two will go out. The car shipped Saturday was loaded with Comice, De Anjou and Clairgeau, and was billed to Chicago. Final returns on all the Bartlett's shipped have been received by the Growers' association, and the net price to the growers after all charges have been met has been $1.09 1-2 per box, this amount being returned to the grower after all expenses of box, wrapping, packing, shipping, etc., had been met. The season has been a profitable one to all pear growers, and a glance at the association books shows some interesting details. As a sample, but no different than the average grower, is the case of Will Scoville, whose 53 bearing trees netted him $471.95, checks of that amount having been turned over to Mr. Scoville by the association after all charges had been met.

JOSEPHINE CAVES CLOSED FOR SEASON

Superintendent Macduff, of the Siskiyou national forest, has just returned from a trip to the Josephine caves, where he inspected the work done in that district during the summer. The season at the caves really closed on the 15th inst, and R. W. Rowley, the guide who has been stationed there during the summer has left, though he would still be available for the guidance of parties by making special arrangements. Mr. Rowley has done a great amount of good work within the caves this season in making some of the caverns more accessible, the openings and passages having in several cases been enlarged. Authority from the government is now being sought by Mr. Rowley to have the more tortuous passages blasted out so that the hardships of sight-seeing in the caves will be lessened. While the government guide has left the caves, visitors can still see much of the underground wonders, as arrows are painted on the walls pointing the directors in and out.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS IN REUNION AT TALENT

Under cloudless skies, in a beautiful oak grove near the thriving little town of Talent, was held the 21st annual reunion of the Southern Oregon Soldiers and Sailors Reunion association. The attendance was large, each post and corps in the district being well represented. Addresses by well-known public men, wartime, vocal and instrumental music, eating and drinking (hot coffee and cold water), and visiting filled each day, while the evenings were set apart for the different corps programs. Tuesday a musical cantata and drill was given by Central Point, under the direction of Rev. Aldridge. Wednesday was Grants Pass day and two splendid addresses were given, the first, in the morning, by Rev. Wm. Riley Jeffrey, Jr., and the second by Hon. E. E. Blanchard. At noon a very enjoyable picnic dinner was held and at 8 p. m. Gen. Logan W. R. C. was given the platform. The greater part of the program was given by Mrs. Estella Basler, with Mrs. Winnie Elliott at the piano. For over an hour Mrs. Basler delightfully entertained the large audience with legend, song and story, and she won the lasting admiration of all present. Thursday morning C. B. Watson of Ashland, and a member of the Oregon conservation and geological survey, gave a fine address of the pioneer days of Southern Oregon. He carried a hickory cane made in Missouri and brought here in 1852 by "Papa Root," who located where Talent now is, and for many years was owner of part of the present townsite. In the afternoon Attorney H. A. Cannady of Medford gave a patriotic address that brought repeated applause. In the evening the Medford corps gave a fine program of burlesque drills and songs. On Friday the public school was presented with a beautiful flag by President Jessica Carter of the Ashland Corps.

The good citizens of Talent never for a moment forgot the comfort of their invited guests. Every day loads of peaches, melons and tomatoes were brought to the camping grounds and given free. Great big kettles of hot coffee and hot soup were always ready, while a big barrel of ice water was at all times a center of attraction. The week spent at "Camp Adams" in the beautiful electric lighted oak grove at Talent will ever remain a pleasant memory.

Those who went from Grants Pass were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Alverson, Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Heston, Mr. and Mrs. Disbrow, Mrs. Wertz, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Meade, Mrs. Mallory, Mrs. Jess, Mrs. Trunnel, Mrs. Custer, Mrs. Basler and Mrs. Elliott. Rev. Jeffrey, Mr. Blanchard, Comrades Peterson, Scoville and Wade.

Needless to add how pleased Gen. Logan Post and Corps are that the reunion will be held in Grants Pass next year.

At the Klamath convention a resolution was adopted asking that the officers of the grand lodge attend the meeting of the convention, and an attempt will be made to add to the interest of the gathering. The local K. P. lodge is now assuming a greater degree of activity, and will no doubt be in a position to do the honors in royal style when the time for the convention arrives.

GALICE HOTEL IS BURNED TO GROUND

The Hawkins hotel at Galice was completely destroyed by fire at about 11 o'clock this morning, the fire originating from a defective flue. JOSEPHINE HAS YOUNGEST COUNTY CLERK

The youngest and oldest county clerk in attendance at the conference held in Portland, were E. L. Coburn, of Josephine, and G. W. Jones, of Yamhill. Mr. Jones is 70 years of age and is said to be the oldest county clerk in the United States.

The next youngest was Max Gahler, of Marion, and next was Charles Billeu, of Wallowa, a former Albany man.

County Clerk Marks lost third place by two months. However, Mr. Marks is on his second term of office and all three of the first named are first termers. At the time and during his first election, Mr. Marks was the youngest county clerk in the state.

According to facts compiled during the conference relative to the county clerks, about half of them were born in Oregon and their average age was 37.—Albany Democrat.
