

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

Mrs. S. Hammel left Tuesday for San Francisco and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. De Varilla. E. A. Fairchild left Tuesday for Ely, Nev., to spend the winter in the mines. His family will remain here with his parents. Mrs. O. D. McAllister, who has been spending the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Martin, returned to Roseburg Tuesday. Edward McCarthy, formerly of Medford and Grants Pass, now representing the Safety Investment Company of Vancouver, B. C., en route to San Francisco and other California cities in the interests of his present employment, is today a Grants Pass visitor.

Market Master Makes Report— In making his report to the committee from the Commercial club that managed the establishment of the public market, Manager Willmot stated that the total receipts for the first ten market days had been $830, and that $26 has been paid in for the rental of stalls. Dr. Shearer Locates— Dr. Shearer, who for a number of years has practiced in Glendale, has removed to Grants Pass and has opened offices at the corner of 6th and G streets, in connection with the offices of Dr. Sweeney, each having separate offices, but using a common waiting room. Over the Trail from Agness— Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wooley and two children, who have spent the past seven months at the Red Cub mine down Rogue river, near Agness, arrived in Grants Pass Sunday and will leave soon for San Francisco. Mr. Wooley has been conducting development work on the Red Cub, having a force of men busy tunneling. They walked in over the trail to Galice, Mr. Wooley carrying their gear and a half old baby on his back the entire distance.

Off After Bucks— A party composed of H. E. Bailey, John Tetherow, Carl Allen and Jim Smith has gone to Deer creek to put in the closing days of the hunting season after the big bucks. The hunting season closes Friday night. Cattle For Klamath— Messrs. Newland and Howell, with three helpers, were in the city Tuesday from Klamath Falls on their way to Curry county, via Crescent City, where they expect to purchase 100 to 200 head of heifers and cows to be driven to the Klamath country for dairy herds. Klamath county is coming to the front not only as a beef producing section but as a dairying country as well. Jack Hallowell Arrested— Jack Hallowell, who has pulled off several stunts in the city of a wild west nature, was gathered in by Constable Randle Monday night and lodged in the city jail for safe keeping. Hallowell was arrested on complaint of Al Teal, who said that Hallowell had come to his place south of the city and after kicking in his door had threatened to shoot him. Hallowell says that he wants to go to Klamath, and on his agreement to go without delay, the charge against him may not be pressed.

ASTRONOMER TAKEN FOR BOLD HOLD-UP— When J. D. Fry was a younger man in leather pantaloons and "punching" steers over the eastern Washington hills in his successful endeavor to get together the ducaats that afterward made a banker of him, he became somewhat of a star gazer. When he was caught out long after the setting of the sun chasing a refractory cow or prospecting for some reported maverick, J. D. used to find his way back to camp by keeping an eye on the stars. He came to know Venus by her front name, and could tell with both eyes shut how many moons Jupiter was supposed to have and whether all of Saturn's rings were in place or not. Transition from the deck of a cayuse to the polished mahogany of the money changer's counter does not change the leopard's spots nor the Ethiopian's hue, however, and J. D. can probably cut a hair brand or use the frying pan on the other outfit's mark with as much dexterity as in the days of yore. Sure it is that the study of the heaven's has lost none of its charm for him, and books on astronomy are sandwiched in between volumes that tell the growth of his dollars in his library. Sunday a neighbor loaned J. D. a new and powerful telescope, and the cowboy-banker-astronomer was renewing at short range the acquaintance of his celestial friends. He had a focus on Jupiter, and was intent upon a hunt for the divers moons. At the nearby church house the doxology had been sung, and the congregation was wending its way homeward. A party of ladies neared the Fry premises. There was a piercing feminine shriek, a pattering of footsteps as frightened and trembling women beat a rapid tattoo upon the pavement with number twos. The police department was called, and a regiment of volunteers soon gathered to hunt the bold hold-up who had plied his trade in so public a place. Fry was called over the phone and told of the night prowler that had been crouched behind the bush in his front yard. And Fry began to ask questions. He wanted to know if the hold-up was about "so tall." Yes, he was just about "so tall"; and he wore a cap "just like that"; and that was "just the description of his whiskers"; and he "had a great gun leveled right over the fence and aimed right at us." "Why, that was just me," said the innocent J. D. "That gun was Presley's new telescope and it wasn't loaded. But I know now what it was I thought was an eclipse of Jupiter that was not recorded in the astronomy books." The lady who had thrown away her hand bag at the first alarm found her valuables and the crowd dispersed. And Fry's great discovery will not be recorded in the future works on the planets.

Advertisement for Remington-UMC Arrow Shot Shells. Includes an illustration of a hunter and a Remington-UMC rifle. Text: 'The Remington Cubs get them with the center of the load. REMINGTON UMC ARROW SHOT SHELLS SPEED—SPEED—and again, SPEED YOUR object in shooting is to get your bird with the center of your load. Of course! Then shoot these Steel Lined Speed Shells. They are the fastest shells in the market. Their speed is demonstrated beyond question by the one sure test in all ballistic matters—the Electric Chronograph. Then, too, there is the experience of thousands of seasoned gunners who have been shooting the Remington-UMC Steel Lined Shells ever since they came out. The steel lining is the thing. It grips the powder—holds it in compression—puts all the drive of the explosion behind the shot. Your load travels quicker—you shorten your lead. You cut down the guess work on lead and angles—you get more birds. Your dealer carries these speed shells. Get them. Use them. Find the Red Ball mark on every box of shells and metallics you buy. Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Co. 299 Broadway New York

Chas. Payne, farmer in the Jump-Off-Joe section, left Tuesday for Providence, R. I., to remain. Miss Marie Smith returned to Hornbrook Tuesday after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Chesbire. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Howard of Ashland, who are just returning from a trip east, stopped off at Grants Pass Tuesday to spend a few days visiting. J. E. Jackson, for the past two and one-half years drug clerk with M. Clemens, left Tuesday for Junction City to reside.

Stolen Coat Is Found— When J. R. Beymer, advance man for the "Chocolate Soldier" company, arrived in Grants Pass on No. 13 Sunday morning he was short a valuable overcoat which had disappeared from his section on the Pullman some time during the night. The porter happened to remember that one gentleman who had boarded the train without a coat had been possessed of such a garment when he left at a station back on the line, and the officers were at once put on the man's trail. Man and coat were found at Drain, and the story now awaits further developments. Hoboes Wanted Meat— The local police force is looking for a couple of travelling gentlemen who have been occupying suite 000 of hobo's resort down the railroad track, a charge of mild hold-up having been placed against them. Commodore Perry Garrett was delivering meat and other commodities with his bicycle delivery Monday morning when he was stopped by the gentry and a demand made upon him for the meat. Not making good on this demand, the tramps asked for cash, but young Commodore Perry put spurs to his steel steed and vamoosed. The hunted hoes have not yet been found.

EXPERIMENT FARM DIRECTOR GIVES ADVICE— H. C. Reimer of Talent, superintendent of the Southern Oregon Experiment station, spent Saturday with A. Wylberg at the Homewood farm, superintending the pruning of the orchard. Mr. Reimer's services have been made use of by several of the fruit growers of this region. Mr. Reimer is an employee of the state and farmers and fruit raisers are at liberty to call upon him for information or advice at any time. Experimenting in fruits best adapted for this section is carried on at the station at Talent and at present there are nearly 400 varieties of pears growing and others are being added. FITZ MARTIN MINER— Fitz Martin Miner, for nearly a quarter of a century a resident of Grants Pass or its immediate vicinity, died at his home at 702 L street, Thursday evening, October 23, from tuberculosis. The deceased was born on July 13, 1848, being at the time of his death 65 years, three months and ten days of age. He came to Grants Pass from Iowa 24 years ago, and for a number of years was engaged in farming, having owned a tract of land on the lower river. He is survived by a wife and one daughter. The funeral will be held at the family residence Saturday, October 25, at 11 o'clock, interment to be in Odd Fellows cemetery.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM FOLSOM PRISON— Folsom, Cal., Oct. 25.—Information was received at the state prison today that Norman C. Hair, 17; William E. Roder, burglar, and Thomas Samuels, also a burglar, convicts who made a bold break for liberty late yesterday evening, are in hiding near Miller's ranch, near Rattlesnake Bar. Poses were immediately despatched to the scene by Warden Johnston, who returned to the prison to take personal charge of the man hunt. "We don't anticipate any trouble in capturing the men," said Johnston, "as we do not believe they will snow fight." Numerous reports were received at the prison today of the men's whereabouts. The posse men were scattered about the adjoining country from every point within a radius of many miles of the penitentiary. At five o'clock this morning, it was reported at New Castle that the men had passed the Miller ranch, headed northwest. The escaped prisoners were still garbed in stripes, and Hair carried a rifle, taken from Guard Morse at the time of the break. Rattlesnake Bar is on the American river, 18 miles northwest of Folsom, and is in a wild and rough country. It is believed the men are headed for the mountains, and if they get into the foothills the officers anticipate trouble in coming up with them. Early today Sheriff Ahearn of Sacramento and a posse of deputies and constables arrived at the prison and joined in the chase. Hair was sent to Folsom from the Whittier Reform school, where he assaulted a guard with a garden rake.

Missing Man Found— Ed Payette, an officer from Aberdeen, Wash., was in the city Sunday, returning from the Smith river country, Cal., where he brought a dead man to life. An Aberdeen woman who supposed herself a widow had taken legal action to collect a policy of $3,000 on the life of her husband from the Modern Woodman society, but the society was not so sure that the policy was payable, and Payette was started out on a still hunt for the missing husband. He followed the trail through Oregon into the hills of the Smith river country, where he finally found his man and proved that the Aberdeen woman was not yet a widow.

Gets Views of Squaw Basin— Councilman M. J. Anderson has just received an album of beautiful photographs from C. E. Leshner, an assistant geologist of the United States geological survey, the photos having been made last summer while Mr. Anderson was with Mr. Leshner in an examination of the Squaw Basin coal field, the survey covering a period of six weeks. The photos are of camp scenes and the scenery of the Squaw Basin country. The report which Mr. Leshner made regarding the coal deposits in the district bore out all the claims which the holders of the claims have made, and shows that the Grants Pass claimants have properties that will prove of greatest value.

CHARGE HOBOES WITH BREAKING INTO CAR— A car of apples standing on the siding, loaded by the Josephine Growers association, was broken into Monday night and some of the fruit stolen, one of the regular packing boxes having been opened and part of its contents taken. The misdemeanor was charged to hobo's, and two of the gentry that were found in a nearby freight car were arrested and lodged in jail. The hobo's had a number of apples in their possession at the time they were arrested. They will be held till the Southern Pacific railroad detectives arrive and probe the case.

IMPROVING COUNTRY CLUB ORCHARD TRACTS— J. T. Burney, who has been in the city for some days past looking after the interests of the Country Club Orchard Company, left Monday evening, but will return later to assist further in the development of the property. This company holds 1500 acres lying between Grants Pass and Merila upon which it is making extensive developments. Surveyor Hall has just completed the survey of the lands, and they have been laid off in small tracts, of about five acres each, with picturesque drives throughout. The townsite of Spitzsburg is upon this property. A number of these tracts are being cleared, and about 100 acres will be planted to fruit trees this fall, largely to pears, though the fruit most adapted to the soil of any certain tract will be planted upon it. These tracts are to be developed along the lines of the poultry industry and fruit raising, and a number of purchasers are expecting to build and improve, while the company will clear and plant extensively.

CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA— The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

HEART FAILURE KILLS SON OF U. S. SENATOR— Milwaukee, Oct. 28.—Isaac Stephenson, Jr., son of United States Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, was found dead here today aboard a Northwestern train. Stephenson, physicians said, had been dead an hour when the body was found. Death was due to heart failure.

FEDERALS STILL HOLD CITY OF MONTERREY— Mexico City, Oct. 27.—Definite information was received that as late as yesterday the federals were still holding Monterrey, which the rebels professed to have captured. Heavy fighting was still in progress today at last accounts. From Culiacan, capital of the state of Sinaloa, came news that the federals had abandoned the town. They still held Guaymas and Mazatlan, however.

TOUNIFY INTERESTS OF ALL THE NATIONS

Washington, Oct. 28.—That President Wilson and Secretary Bryan plan a "unity of interests" of all nations in the western hemisphere was the interpretation placed here today on the president's utterances Saturday at Swarthmore college, Philadelphia, and yesterday in Mobile. Politicians and diplomats here were convinced that in those two speeches the national executive was outlining the policy he and the premier of his cabinet had decided on. The president, it was said on excellent authority, is determined to avoid intervention in Mexico if possible, but if he must intervene, to withdraw as soon as order has been restored. It was admitted that his declaration that the United States intends to seize no territory has put him in a position where he can command the support of all parties in congress if a resort to force becomes absolutely necessary. He and Secretary Bryan will confer tomorrow, following the president's return from Mobile, and it was thought possible that publication of a definite and unequivocal outline of their policy might be the result of their conversation. Dispatches from Mexico City today indicated that President Huerta was considering the proclamation of ex-Foreign Minister Gamboa as president of Mexico and of General Blanquet as vice-president. Both are under his control and such a step would still further complicate the situation. Lordsburg, Cal., Oct. 28.—This city wants a marshal. For three weeks the town has been combed for an applicant, but it's no use. The job pays $12.50 per month.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM FOLSOM PRISON

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines. If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world-wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative.
