WORK FOR THE WILL.

There is something wrong with the "white workers" of the world. If there is anything so much as the "classless" unemployable corporations in this world, make work and work hard. The less work a man does, the less he is worth. The more he does, the more he earns. The more he earns, the more he can be of service to his fellow men. The more he serves, the more he will be benefited. If there is anything so much as the "classless" unemployable corporations in this world, make work and work hard. "In this, there is no labor, but only labor..."

The state of Oregon is especially of great importance in the consideration of railroad connections. It is that "to all points of vital interest to Oregon, there is no more overland route than the Oregon trail," and that "the Oregon trail is the only means of communication between the north and south parts of Oregon." The Oregon trail is the only means of communication between the north and south parts of Oregon.

And there is no more overland route than the Oregon trail.
