stitute outside of Portland.

F. W. Jones gave a short talk on retaining Rex Putnam as State Superintendent of Schools. Dan Jones urged all teachers to pay up County Association fees of fifty cents and also state and national if possible as without organization legislation for teachers benefits were almost impossible. County dues are used to send delegates from this county to the state convention in Portland, at Christmas time.

Mrs. Varner suggested that a plan might be worked out among the schools where text books not being used could be used by another near by school or where needed. Mr. Wardrip suggested that in some places this was worked out through the County Superintendent's office, but in this county it would be impossible because of lack of help in the office. This was suggested as a project for the local organization to work upon. Many other discussions of interest to the teachers were entered upon which were interrupted by Mrs. Thelma Wilson inviting the group to the Home Economics room where lunch was being served. Table decoration of autumn leaves, madrone berries and a bowl of autumn fruits as table centerpiece was attractive with a cunning little walnut shell turtle at each place. Seated at the table were Supt. Wardrip, Miss Ruby Higinbotham, Mrs. Myrtle Walton, Miss Ila Mae Higinbotham, Miss Lois Speaker, Mrs. Martha Holland, Miss Phyllis Crouse, Mrs. Lorna Byrne, Mrs. Marjorie Varner, Mr. and

Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Lola Peterson, Miss Laverne Roberson, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, Miss Alvenia Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jones and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jones.

The high school teachers were hosts at this meeting with the Home Economics second year class in charge of lunch and decorations. In the class are Norma Tycer, Myrtice and Phyllis Jones, Wanda Burch, Fern Riblette, Maxine Patrick.

A. E. Anderson came home last Saturday from his logging operation near Lakeview, accompanied by Art Kellert, Ronald Tycer, Lew Holland, Bill Sherier and Roy Reed. Jim Whitehead and Hans Whitney came over also. They all returned to Lakeview Monday.
