MEETING "PROSPERITY"

Our campaign aimed to show how "Prosperity" can be brought to all of us is causing considerable thought among some of our readers who have started their scrap book and are going to follow through. There has been many queries concerning the book, "T. N. T.—It Rocks the Earth," by Claude M. Bristol, the theme of which opened our eyes to the great power existing in every man and woman. In view of the fact that no distributor in Southern Oregon carries this book, we have made arrangements with the publishers to get a limited supply of this result getting book which may be obtained for one dollar. The book will make your study of this interesting theme much clearer, and we positively know anyone who follows through with this theme, gets what they want.

How many of you saw the picture at the Cave City theater last Saturday or Sunday, "The Story of Irene and Vernon Castle." Those of you who did, do you remember one of the characters telling the kids to "lift up their chin and smile, throw out their chests and put their best foot forward?"

That's good medicine for anyone, whether you are going to dance or saw wood. Lift up your chin and smile with assurance; throw out your chest with pride and put your best foot forward with confidence you're stepping the right direction.

That's just another way of telling you about meeting "Prosperity," and saying hello to "Success." Two dynamic personalities, "Prosperity" and "Success," but they like to be cultivated and flattered with. Those who let them on their own terms do not have to put out what is going to happen next year, next week or next day.

Get a "bull-dog-grip" that won't let go and start on your road to meet "Prosperity" and "Success." They're nice people.

Make up your mind what you want and where you're going. Then don't get lazy on the job. Keep everlastingly at it. It is easy to preach, isn't it? But this theme is easy, also, when once understood. It merely takes faith enough to push you forward to your ultimate goal. When you have sufficient faith, you have sufficient energy to do and get the things you want.

THE STORY OF A FIRE TRUCK

Once upon a time there was a fine little fire truck built by fine people for a fine little city, and this little fire truck was mighty proud, for it had opportunities to demonstrate what it meant to the little city.

Once there was a fire in one of the little city's nice buildings, and the fire was off to a good start, but the proud little fire truck strutted down the road in jig time and low and behold, the axe on the truck cut a hole in the lumber so the hose could be thrust in and then the little engine forced the little pump to work and the little tank of water extinguished the somewhat bothersome little fire.

Then the little fire truck was called to Bridgeview and scooted up the highway to help do its part when that disastrous fire visited our little sister city. The little fire truck stayed on the job until late the next morning, all the time doing what it was expected to do and a great deal more.

Ever since the Bridgeview fire the little truck has had a good rest. Just like "Ferdinand" it has stayed in its little house and smelled (not the flowers) just the dust that was forced through the walls by the noisy automobiles passing by. During the course of progress, the little city grew, and there was erected a fine new concrete building, and when the proprietors of the new building opened their store they put the rubbish and boxes out the back door until they could be taken care of later. Lo, and behold, the rubbish caught fire in some unexplained manner and bid fair to burn up the back porch of the new little building in the little city. The editor of the little paper in the little city happened to be near at hand and when told of the fire he ran with his little tummy sticking out and his breath coming in short pants, to the little fire truck expecting it to do its duty and come to the rescue of the little fire.

Did we say something about "Ferdinand, the bull?" The little truck must have heard about "Ferd" for like the bull it just wanted to stay in its little house undisturbed and so, kind friends, it stayed there, and was only disturbed long enough to find out it just didn't want to be moved.

The moral of our little story is that the little fire truck needs repairs. It may be us, it may be you that will need the services of the truck. There is no money in the treasury to buy the needed material or repairs. So The News is giving its check for $2.50 towards a fund to get the needed material and repairs. We are going to publish the names and amounts of all who help this good work along. Make your check payable to the Cave Junction Volunteer Fire Department and send or give it to George W. Martin, chief or at The News. This is urgent and needs your attention Now!

We were pleased to have several visitors last Sunday. The invitation to you is, "make" our church your church."

Our Sunday morning service was a different type of service; we made it a dedication service. We now have new seats and a piano and hope to have a new building some day.

The evening message was filled with good cheer and encouragement. The subject was "His Will To Us." Next Sunday night, we expect to discuss and answer the question, "Why Was the Bible Written?" The Little Church With the Big Welcome.
