

For 20 centuries peoples of the Western civilization have been under the influence of Christianity. Deeply imbedded in its teachings are admonitions that GOOD WILL towards all must be a factor of the true practice of this code of living. Thus it is that in a spirit of Good Will the advertisers on this page wish you a

AWND EARS YNER

Since the birth of mankind, people have invariably looked forward with relish to holidays and festive occasions. The greatest of holidays in Christendom have been born of Christianity—Christmas and Easter. Like a thunder shower which leaves in its wake a serene beauty, Easter is presaged by a solemn week of mournful aspect. Easter Sunday becomes a glad day in the hearts of all. For Easter, like spring, is the beginning. Small wonder that people take a new lease on life, dress in the finest of raiment, make the kiddies happy in a pagan sort of manner . . . for Easter is the "beginning."
