MEETING "PROSPERITY"

Meeting "Prosperity" and using "T. N. T.—It Rocks the Earth." Claude Bristol's great book, carry other suggestions in life besides getting what you want. It also means being a good neighbor, trying to get along with other people and make others happy as well as yourself. Just getting what you want without happiness would be an empty life—But getting what you want with happiness is everyone's heritage.

The following article clipped from an exchange has so much good in it, that we give it to you this week for your scrap book:

TOLERANCE

Tolerance is not a matter of the action we take so much as it is an equitable frame of mind which seeks out truth that scales instead of scolds. A few sentences whose author is not known, summarize the intolerant viewpoint:

"When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when we do it, it is nerves.

"When the other fellow is set in his ways, he's obstinate; when you are, it's just firmness.

"When the other fellow doesn't like your friends, he's prejudice; when you don't like his, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature.

"When the other fellow tries to treat someone specially well, he's toadying; when you try the same game, you are using tact.

"When the other fellow takes time to do things, he is dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate.

"When the other fellow picks flaws in things, he's cranky; when you do, you are discriminating.

"When the other fellow runs great risks in business, he's foolhardy; when you do, you are a great financier.

"When the other fellow says what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are frank.

"When the other fellow won't get caught in a new scheme, he's backwoodsy; when you don't, you're conservative."

We might add to the foregoing observations, the adage that only fools are positive—The more ignorant a man is, the more likely he is to be dogmatic. It is hard to give a working rule for tolerant conduct, but we offer as a starting suggestion adopting a "hands-off" policy in matters that do not personally or remotely affect us, refraining the proffer of advice until asked for, and letting the other fellow do generally what he likes—if he doesn't owe us money.

Watch the gauge on your think tank and make sure you're not running out of idea fuel. You used a notion yesterday. What have you since done to replace it?

Now is the time for all good people to see the Oregon Caves.

The Fifth Column Worker

By H. I. PHILLIPS

HE TAKES all America has to offer with a smile and awaits a chance to return the favor with a machine gun.

HE COILS in the flag, hides in the quartet singing the national anthem and crouches behind the Bill of Rights.

HE ACCEPTS your invitation to dinner and makes a mental blueprint of your home so he can return and snatch the silver.

HE LETS you help him on with his coat while he plans to steal your shirt.

HE LETS you pay his golf fee while he figures out how much powder it would take to blow up the clubhouse.

HE BECOMES your week-end house guest and spends most of the time estimating how good a target for bombers the children's bedroom would make.

HE APPLAUDS America First programs and laughs himself to sleep over the fact his face didn't betray him.

HE STANDS when "The Star-Spangled Banner" is played, but eases his conscience by assuring himself that he was tired of sitting, anyhow.

HE LOOKS like a man, but performs like a rattlesnake.

HE SHAKES your hand while his wandering eye measures you for a knife in the back.

HE IS THE SKUNK that walks like a man, the hyena that waltzes like a patriot and the rat that masquerades as a human being.

HE EXPRESSES astonishment at the genius of American industry, but puts in plenty of time reporting back to the enemy on weak spots for attack.

HE NOT ONLY BITES the hand that feeds him, but eats the other hand for dessert.

HE SAYS, "It can't happen here," while planning to help the enemy do it.

HE IS THE KIND of rodent who would accept help from the good Samaritan, ask the Samaritan to wait for him in the corner drug store and then bomb the drug store.

HE RENDERS evil for good, thinks the doublecross is the noblest work of man and eats with his knife because he never wants to have to depend on a fork when the time comes to stab his host.

"The Dark Command" Saturday and Sunday

The transition from drawing room roles into a he-man character is a welcome one for Walter Pidgeon. In Republic's "Dark Command" coming to the Cave City theater Saturday and Sunday, July 27-28, Pidgeon plays the role of the notorious Cantrell, renegade raider in Kansas during Civil War days.

Cantrell and his raiders, who turned down the infamous Jesse James as a member of their gang because he was a "sissy," terrorized Missouri and Kansas during and after the Civil War. Their technique was to raid Northern settlements in the uniforms of the Confederacy, and to raid Southern towns in the uniforms of the

ENLIST FOR "TOTAL WAR"

Because of unprecedented drought and incendiary activities, Oregon faces the most serious forest fire menace of many years. Thoughtful citizens are rebelling against the carelessness, the apathy and criminal activity that permits this destruction of beauty and wealth and living things. If you wish to join in the "total war" against forest fires in your home state, sign the "enlistment" blank below:

State Forester, Salem, Oregon
I pledge myself to report to you any acts of carelessness or incendiary that I may see along the highways or in the forests of Oregon and to observe scrupulously myself these six rules for preventing fires—(1) Be sure your match is out, break it in two before throwing it away; (2) Extinguish cigarette, cigar and pipe sparks in ash tray provided in my car; (3) Build all camp fires in hole dug in ground. Clear all inflammable material from around campfire site; (4) Never leave camp before campfire is out—dead out; (5) Pour water or pack earth over campfire, stirring coals to make sure that every spark is absolutely extinguished; (6) Never burn brush or slash in windy weather. Get burning permit from fire warden or ranger.

"Dark Command," stars Claire Trevor and John Wayne, the romantic leads in "Stagecoach" and "Allegheny Uprising." Wayne portrays the Federal Marshal who is obliged to bring Cantrell to justice, even though it will mean heartbreak for the woman he loves.

Cochineal Insects of One Sex
The Cochineal industry which supplies the coloring in rouges and lipsticks is centered mainly in the Canary Islands. The coloring is obtained from the cochineal bug; "Coccus cacti" to zoologists, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. It has a reddish tinted, fat, wrinkly body, tortoise shaped and about half the size of a grape. Cochineal insects are all of one sex—mothers. In spite of the fact that they are all identically alike, they reproduce with great rapidity, fresh generations arising within a few hours. The dye obtained from these insects brought great prosperity to the islands until chemists discovered aniline dyes and brought the islands to the verge of bankruptcy. No dye known to science is so safe when used on the human skin as cochineal.

Dead Buried in Urns
Macassar is the capital of Celebes, a large, queerly-shaped island with numerous great bays. The waterfall at Bantimoeroen is the main attraction there. A pagan cemetery supplies the local interest for the visitor. In ancient times the natives used to bury their dead in great covered urns, wherein the corpse was placed in a sitting position. The custom was for the bereaved to sit daily beside these grave stones, which still remain.

Look out for pedestrians.
