New Pictures Coming To Cave City Theater

Bernard Roberts owner of the Cave City theater, has just returned from Portland where he made a special trip to book new pictures which he will show in the near future to the valley show goers.

Among some of the outstanding pictures are "Comrade X," "The Philadelphia Story," "Come Live With Me," "Land of Liberty," and best of all, "Gone With the Wind," with nothing reduced but the price. Still the original picture, four hours long, and only one show a night.

These are only a few of the great pictures Mr. Roberts has coming for the valley people, and we think he is to be congratulated for giving us such splendid shows.

Patriotism Keynote Of Rose Festival

Patriotism will be the dominant note of Portland's coming Rose Festival, June 11 to 14, according to announcement of Chester A. Moores, president.

Special section of the big floral parade set for Friday morning, June 13, will be given over to the patriotic staff.

A great quadrangle of massed colors, planned as "the greatest flag display ever in any parade" will head the patriotic sector. The American Legion has already entered a float in behalf of the organization, and numerous service groups are planning to have a part in this section, according to Major W. G. Harrington, commander of the Commander's Council, who is Chairman of the special committee on this section.

Camas and Washougal were the first Washington cities to enter the outside participation section of the parade, while Oregon City again headed the outside cities in Oregon with an entry signed by Bernie Herman of the Oregon City Breakfast Club that carried the notation, "We're after another sweepstakes." Oregon City has won the sweepstakes oftener than any Oregon town.
