Thanks for the Birthday

Yes, Sir—We're 10 years old and mighty conscious of the fact that it is only because of your patronage that we are celebrating an anniversary, so thanks for the birthday.

We've done a lot of business in the Illinois valley—we know a lot of swell people in that section. It is sections like yours and people of your sort who make business in our line a pleasure and who permit firms to keep on having anniversaries!

The Illinois valley, like Plymouth Motor Cars, is at the "Head of the Parade." We know you'll keep it there!

STANDARD OIL DISTRIBUTING PLANT CAVE JUNCTION, OREGON

The Standard Oil company changed the policy of operation in the valley last year, and now Howard Bearss is the local wholesale distributor of all the company's products in the Illinois Valley. Howard has a list of products that would choke a mule, and they are all useful articles, many of them for the home. Look over the large advertisement in this issue and see a partial list of the products on hand for the convenience of the valley residents.

Game License Needed

Licenses are now required to shoot or hunt non-game animals or predators, just as a license is necessary to take game animals.

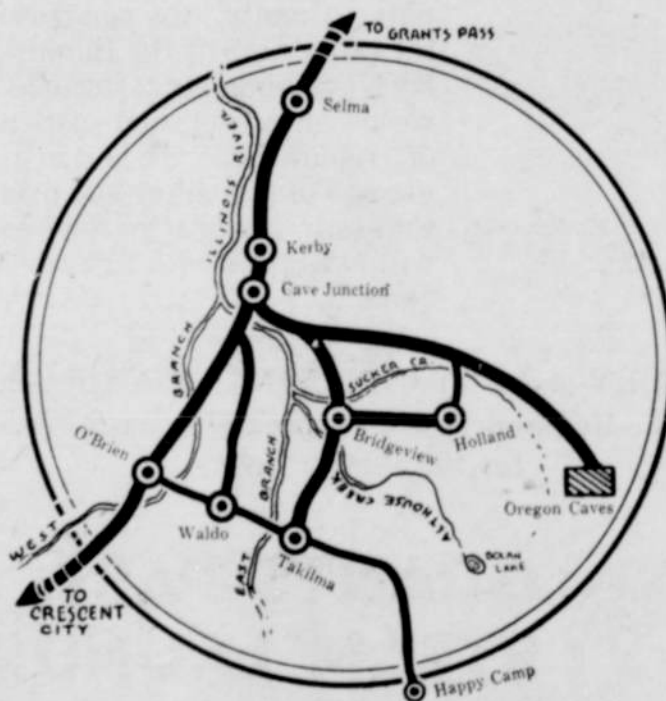

This change came about through provisions of Senate Bill No. 147, granting power to the Game Commission to fix seasons and bag limits. Previously, the attorney general had ruled that no license was required for shooting of non-game animals or predators. The recently enacted legislation which, because of the emergency clause already in effect, makes it mandatory for any person to obtain a license before shooting any wild animals or predators.

Berry Hallocks Changed

Any 12-ounce (net weight) hallock or cup type container will become standard for strawberries, loganberries and raspberries in Oregon as result of an order drawn March 25 following a hearing called by the state department of agriculture. The order will become effective as soon as copies are ready for distribution, probably by April 7.

This action leaves the 12-ounce raised bottom container, standard 1933, legal for use in Oregon and paves the way for growers and shippers to use any 12-ounce container that will meet the requirements of the federal food and drug administration for interstate shipment.

TRADING AREA OF THE ILLINOIS VALLEY GATEWAY TO THE OREGON CAVES

The above cut depicts the trading area of the Illinois Valley from the top of Hays hill to the base of Oregon mountain on the Redwood highway in California, north and south, and Happy Camp territory to the east and the mountains on the west give a huge trading area with approximately 4,000 people.
