THE FOURTH OF JULY

The Fourth of July has a great significance to all of us this year. In 1776 we were fighting for our freedom. Many nations of the old world are doing the same thing now. Many of them are under the conqueror's grasp and are being treated more like animals than human beings.

Could it be possible that we have forgotten for what we fought? Would it not be a very kindly act to help those nations who are now fighting for, not only the preservation of their nation, but for their very lives.

This glorious day should bring a realization to all of us that we are not a country with a fence around it. We are the most progressive nation in the world; we know, or rather our forefathers knew, what it was to have a master clamp down on our activities.

The Fourth of July is our National Birthday, the anniversary of the day we declared our independence. Let's pray for those nations whose independence has been taken away from them and they have virtually become slaves to a militaristic monster.

"GOLDEN HOOF" AND JANE WITHERS

Movie goers have seen Jane Withers in all kinds of interesting settings in the two dozen films she's made since becoming a star. But in "Golden Hoofs," Jane sings and dances and gets her first grownup heartache against a new and more interesting background than ever before. This time the colorful and exciting sport of light harness racing serves as the background and "Golden Hoofs" has been hailed as her best film to date.

Another interesting note on "Golden Hoofs," which comes to the Cave City theatre Wednesday and Thursday, is the fact that it brings Charles (Buddy) Rogers back to the screen after many years absence.

Here's how the story idea for "Golden Hoofs" originated. Seldom publicized, sulky racing is one of America's most popular sports. It was not until Associated Producers Walter Morosco and Ralph Dietrich went over statistics on the sport in America that a trotting race background was selected as a vehicle for the popular Jane.

"Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy" Added Attraction

A sparkling little gem in animated technicolor, is a special treat added to "Golden Hoofs."

The short feature is "Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy," an interlude of heart-warming entertainment. Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, the story-book hero and heroine created by Johnny Gruelle, have delighted millions of children and grownups alike for more than a generation, and now they come to vivid life in their adventures in Ragland. The screen has never shown two more appealing cartoon characters.

A special treat booked for local fishermen is the technicolor short, "Lure of the Trout."

A splendid letter from Howard Weyel, former employee of the Atlas Dredge company, who is now employed at Fairplay, Colorado. Howard says it is still winter there, and he greatly misses Cave Junction. He sent his best regards to all his friends here.

COMMUNITY CHURCH CLIPPINGS

(Contributed)

The next meeting of the Ladies Missionary Society will be with Mrs. Brown at "The Willadora," Thursday, the 10th. Work, business and pleasure is the order of the day, and every lady interested is more than welcome, each to bring a covered dish for the luncheon at 12:30.

Sunday School attendance was most gratifying, 56 present, with 12 visitors, collection $2.02. Perfect attendance in Mrs. Brown's group, two new members and one visitor. Ask the class if they enjoyed the all-day picnic at Elk creek recreational park, on Saturday? Otis Hussey was hero of the day, capturing most prizes. The four winning favorable mention in the special class work assignment contest are Grace Iversen, Evelyn Hays, Georgia Goldsby, and Mildred Tilley. As a reward they are to enjoy a week-end house party at the home of their teacher.

Quite a few enjoyed the Vesper singing at the "Willadora" last Sunday evening. The young folks are preparing some special numbers for future use.

The creche under the supervision of Mrs. L. Sherier was well patronized during the church service. Rev. Gray preached on "Higher Patriotism," the sermon and special music being enjoyed by a large number. Among visitors attending were Mrs. J. Dow; Mrs. F. Barrett, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Doltz, for 34 years missionaries under Pres. board in the Philippines, having gone out the same year that Dr. and Mrs. Brown arrived in Manila. Other visitors at Sunday School were Mrs. Madeline Wolford and daughter, Mrs. Earl Gray and children, all from Los Angeles; Mrs. Clara Dick from Midway City, Calif.; Philip and Mervydeen Griffith, grandchildren of the Gray's from Grants Pass; Mrs. Margaret Monroe and daughter, also Barbara Owens from Takilma, Harry Miller, Johnnie Wilson and F. F. Hibbard.

Next Sunday morning Mrs. E. Gray and Mrs. Dick will furnish special music for the church service. "All are writing a gospel, a chapter a day, By deeds that they do, by words that they say. Men read what we write, whether faithful or true, Say, what is the gospel according to you?" Lincoln once said, "I know that the Lord is always on the side of the right, but it is my constant anxiety and prayer that I and this nation should be on the Lord's side."

OLD OREGON TRAIL PAGEANT AT EUGENE

Eugene—(Special to The News)—The entire male population of Eugene is unshaven at present, and will remain that way until July 26, but it is not because Eugeneans are uncivilized. The no-shaving decree is part of the preparation for Eugene's famed Oregon Trail Pageant, to be presented this year July 24, 25 and 26.

The pageant, presented triennially, commemorates the settling of the Oregon country and the old west by the doughty pioneers of the 1800's, and the beards are a necessary part of the re-creating process. A black-shirted band of "Whiskalantes" sees that no man shaves for six weeks prior to the outstanding celebration, with swift punishment dealt to violators of the ordinance.
