OFF IN A CORNER WITH PHIL SNORT

Dear Ed: It's jest ruinin' my angelic disposition to hafta write the news that has gotta be writ fer the News. I see that you had a fine piece in about four guys what went over on a good-will trip to Happy Camp. They wan't only one of them air guys what deserved a decent word spoke for 'em and his name wuz, in full, Philip Newton Andrew Jackson Lafayette Bi-Gosh Snort.

The next time I go places with them hellions I'm gonta stay home. Iff hosses wuz worth stealin' Harry Messinger and Elwood Hussey would of been hanged more'n ten years ago. Bill McElwee wan't quite so bad, only he laffed at every mean trick what Harry and El served me. The more I know them air two guys the more I think that mebbys as likely Hitler is a derned good feller, Mussolina a Sunday-school-teacher and Stalin a saint. I note that Elwood didn't like me, but I didn't think he would try to kill me jest because he didn't. Harry dern near talked me to death and Bill jest set there and laffed.

I've a heap of patriotism, a lotter civic pride and I love the Illinois valley and have a nawful friendly feelin' fer Happy Camp, but I'll be hanged if I'm gonto put my life in jeopardy too often, with such a mess of critters. I uster think that Hussey could drive a car, but that trip cured me of thinkin' it. He made that lizzie of his'n dance a jig all the way over that mountain, some times he wuz dancin' toward Happy Camp and then dance back to Cave City, he flopped first one way and then tother, and finally he made a big flop and landed on the summit, then he made it dance the devil's dream all the way to Happy Camp. It gizzled my inards up-side-down. I got so sick that I dern near throwed up my gizzard, and Mrs. Young, at the forest guard station, gin me a dose of salutarin and saved my life.

When we got to the town of Happy Camp we had a thunderation of a time, finding the Chamber of Converse. We asked a feller where it wuz and he sed that mebbys they wuz one there but he didn't know what it wuz or where. A nuther guy sed his pa uster to be president of it but they had a rather one now, and then he sed he'd hunt up his pa and find out who it 'twuz. We finally finds the buy's pa sed the Soc but tother feller got away. Well the hull ix of us got together in front of a garage, and Hussey called the meetin' to order, and what he tells them 'er the truth, believes it or not. He tells 'em that it wuz only 40 miles to Cave City and they could buy their cigarette and table salt cheaper at the Model Grocery than anywhere else. Everything wuz Cave City and not a dern word about Cave Junction or Todelope, I'd like to go on and tell all about what I thought of those ginks what toted me over to Happy Camp, but, pshaw! I wouldn't dast send it through the mail, and besides I don't use that kinder language.

Celebrating the Fourth at Crescent City last Friday were Nat Woolley, Vivian Taylor, Edda Burke, Gertrude Bloomingcamp and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thacker.

Dr. and Mrs. N. B. Rundall and granddaughter Chloe-Belle of Petaluma, California, and Miss Carol Maxfield, sister of Mrs. Rundall, of Iowa, stopped to pay a short visit with Dr. A. N. Collman. The ladies are Dr. Collman's aunts.

COMMUNITY CHURCH CLIPPINGS

Attendance at Sunday school was 54, and collection was $2.12. Quite a number of visitors were present at one or both services, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Varner, formerly of Cave Junction, but now of El Monte, Cal., and their daughter, Ardina; Mrs. Ruth Griffin and children from Grants Pass; Mrs. Earl Gray and children from Los Angeles; Mrs. Dick and children from Midway City, Cal., both visiting their parents and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Sherier of County Road; Mrs. E. C. Brown, and Mrs. Alice Pittman, of Baptist church, Hayward, Cal. Mrs. Pittman said they had visited four churches in four states in the past month and liked our Community Church best of any they had seen.

It was also a pleasure to see with us again, Miss Helen Halm and her mother, Rev. Gray preached on "Liberty and Law" to a good sized audience, and the duet by Mesdames Dick and Gray was enjoyed by all. The beautiful flowers in the church were given and arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills, and add so much to the room, a very commendable service rendered by these devoted people.

The week end party of the "Busy Bees" class at the "Willadora" was a delightful affair, with much activity. Among other things the girls made scrap books for a children's ward in a hospital and Mildred Tilley carried off the prize for her work. Sunday evening a larger group joined in at the supper hour and for the vesper song service, when favorite songs were sung. A new member, Yvonne Payne, was enrolled in the class at Sunday school and Miss Varner was a visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Wednesday, Thursday At Cave City Theater

Co-starring Carole Lombard and Robert Montgomery, who are seen together for the first time, "Mr. & Mrs. Smith" present a riotous social comedy of a young Park Avenue lawyer and the woman who for three years has been accepted as his wife.

Weaving its story deftly around the marital life of this highly modern pair and the unique domestic rules by which they live, the film hits a crisis when the two discover that their wedding was illegal. In their emotional rebound they find their romance has become a triangle, with the lawyer's partner stepping in as a rival for the heroine's hand — if, of course, she doesn't remarry his associate.

And, for various reasons, she isn't at all sure she does want to remarry him, although he frantically endeavors to induce her to do so. The upshot of it all is that the three principals wind up at Lake Placid in a hectic and hilarious finale as both men grimly press the lady to make up her mind.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin and family of Prineville, and Mr. county, spent the Fourth with their and Mrs. Roy Phillips of Klamath parents Mr. and Mrs. Herb Marchant of Kerby.

Mrs. O. S. Hibbard of Portland is enjoying a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton who recently arrived here from Cottage Grove, Oregon, also two brothers, Bill and Orval Clifton and their families of Berkeley, California.

Word has been received that Miss Celeste Hamilton was married last month to Eston Lough at Marshfield, Oregon. Mrs. Lough is a sister of Kenneth Hamilton of Cave Junction Motor Court and was here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton for the last two summers.

O. W. Vogue is putting silhouettes on windows and automobiles advertising the coming airport dedication. The silhouette is his own idea and anyone wanting one on their window or car, can get in touch with him at the Hicks garage. The writing washes off readily without any damage to the car.

William Miller arrived in the valley a few days ago from Los Angeles to join his family who have been here for some time. They purchased the Marvin Cross ranch on the Bridgeview-Takilma road.

Spending the Fourth at the J. H. Pomeroy ranch in Kerby were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pomeroy, J. K. Beine and R. R. La Place of San Francisco and Winifred Spear and Noramrie Pomeroy of Sausalito. They left for their respective homes last Sunday.
