OFF IN A CORNER WITH PHIL SNORT

Dear Ed:

I am making the Illinois Valley News the medium in which to convey a message to Col. A. A. Whitesell, somewhere in the United States army. I have nominated and elected myself a committee of one to send him greetings from our entire valley, as I well know that every one of us will welcome the day that brings the good Colonel back to our midst, a friend and neighbor, he and his fine Mrs. and daughter. It has been just about three years since these folks visited my humble home in Elk valley, and my wife and I often talk about them and their short visit here. These good people were constituted with personalities which caused instant admiration and lasting friendship.

I took the liberty without his consent to publish his letter, recently received by me, in the Illinois Valley News, something I seldom do, but I believe that the Colonel will condone the liberty, for his whole letter breathed friendship, and greetings to everyone in our valley; it would have been rather "porkish" for me to hog it all.

For the benefit of the whole valley I will state that the way I understand things, Colonel Whitesell has purchased a home in the Illinois valley, near Selma; I believe we are in the habit of calling them ranches, or a farm, maybe. Nevertheless, it does not matter what one calls them they are fertile with that element that produces friendliness and social welfare that makes life worth living, makes us glad that we are human and that we mingle together in true fellowship as it behooves humanity to do.

Glass Coffee Jars May Be Sealed by New Disk

Many of the glass food containers that have replaced tin on the grocery shelves can be used for home canning this season even though the tops are not the same size as the common screwtop fruit jars, according to word received by the home economics extension division at Oregon State college.

Most of the non-standard size screwtop jars, such as those used for most coffee brands, are now being made with a 2½ inch top. The fruit jar manufacturing companies are now making sealer disks that will fit these and which can be sealed on by using the screwtop lids that come on the original package.

While these may not yet be stocked in some stores, the extension service, as well as most dealers, has been notified that they will be available this season. Homemakers are being urged to save all of these sealable glass containers as a means of increasing the amount of home canning supplies to handle the expected record home food preservation program this season.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Glad we ran into you, Judge. I was just tryin' to set Helen straight on this business about sugar. I wish you'd tell her what you told me last night down at lodge."

"Glad to, Jim. I told him, Helen, that there's not a single bit of truth to the rumor that the distillers use sugar in making whiskey. They make it exclusively from grain. Only bootleggers use sugar to make whiskey. I read an article in the paper just last week that goes to prove it. It told how a confessed bootlegger in a Federal court testified to the fact that another bootlegger, also on trial, had bought a million pounds of sugar a few years ago.

"As a matter of fact, Helen, no distiller is making whiskey today and hasn't for many months. All distillers are working night and day producing war alcohol for the government. And they make every drop of it exclusively from grain, too."
