HOSPITAL SOUGHT FOR HAPPY CAMP

Establishment of a branch of the county hospital, extension of power lines to service Happy Camp and improvement of roads are the outstanding projects under consideration of the improvement committee of the Klamath River Mines association, according to Steve Green, association president. Citizens of the Happy Camp community have had no medical or hospital facilities closer than Yreka. The committee is investigating several pieces of property for the establishment of a branch of the county hospital near there. California Oregon Power company has already extended its power lines to the Gray Eagle mine, a distance by air line of approximately four and one half miles from Happy Camp, Green said. The Gray Eagle mine and the government housing project, together with present and contemplated development in dredging, reduction plants, mills, etc., appear to be ample justification for further extension of power lines, the

A brightly machined piston looks as slick as glass. But see it through a microscope:

That snaggle-toothed saw edge can rip gouges in cylinder walls in a flash. That's why you use motor oil to keep cylinder and piston apart. And that's why you need an oil like "RPM"; one that won't leave bare spots, by crawling away from high engine heat, or draining into the crankcase when the engine's idle. Special compounding makes RPM Motor Oil cling stubbornly to hot or cold metal surfaces. Now, when cars and parts are precious—switch to RPM Motor Oil, and change it every 1000 miles—right on the dot!

The committee has gone on record in favor of surfacing streets and roads approaching the town in order to keep down dust that has accumulated on road surfaces several inches thick.

The committee also expressed hopes that California and Oregon officials will get together in the very near future to complete details for development of the Takilma-Happy Camp road, known locally as the "now lass route."

and distribution of fresh and canning vegetables and fruits will be so short as to leave consumers with limited or no supplies whatsoever. Legitimate processors and distributors of food products are closing their doors because of inability to secure supplies, and a large percentage of food is finding its way into the "black market". While consumers are short, large quantities of vegetables are rotting in the field because of the shortage of labor and lack of proper transportation, handling and distribution.

"We are convinced that the chief reason for this food crisis is the confusion and chaos resulting from the fact that a multiplicity of agencies are attempting to deal with food production and distribution. Lack of coordination, delay in formulating policies, and failure to consult men experienced in food problems appear to your committee to be important factors in bringing about the disastrous situation now confronting the country and our war effort."

The bill to consolidate the control of food, although patterned after the bill by Tom Jenkins, a Republican from Ohio, was introduced and is being sponsored by the Democratic side of the aisle.

Democrats in Congress, in substantial number, are breaking with the Administration so far as domestic policies are concerned. There appears to be no partisanship in connection with war policies.

The dates of the proposed Congressional recess are not fixed yet, but apparently all urgent business will be completed by the end of next week. My own plans are indefinite, but if and when a recess is declared, I expect to spend several weeks in the district.
