Payroll Savings Buys Comfort For Your Fighting Relatives

Not all of your payroll savings and other War Bond purchases are used for tanks, planes and gunpowder. A part of your investment goes for the comfort of your father, brother, son or friend.

Put your war bond buying through your payroll savings plan on a family basis to do the most effective job in providing for the care and safety of your men in the armed forces. Figure it out for yourself how much beyond 19 per cent of the aggregate income of your family you can put into war bonds above the cost of the necessities of life.

Remember a single $18.75 war bond will buy for a fighting soldier on the front: Two cotton undershirts at 44 cents; two pairs of cotton shorts at 76 cents; two pairs of cotton socks at 34 cents; one pair of shoes at $4.31; a cotton khaki shirt at $4.64; pair twill trousers at $4.16; one web waist belt at 23 cents; two cotton neckties at 44 cents; 2 khaki caps at $1.26 and one twill jacket at $2.16. Total $18.74.

An $18.75 war bond should make a marine comfortable for the night with a 23-pound mattress at $4.29; two blankets at $13.54; a pillow at 56 cents and two pillow cases at 30 cents. Total $18.60.

Or he could be provided with a rubber poncho at $4.77; a helmet with its lining and other items of its assembly at $5.62; a rifle cartridge belt at $2.15; a marine corps pack consisting of haversack, knapsack and suspenders at $5.10; a canteen and its cover at $1.05. Total $18.69.

Those of you who worry about the comfort of your boy in service can help insure his comfort by buying war bonds. And 10 years from now you'll take back $25 for every $18.75 you put in.

Our Merchant Marine

To America goes the credit of the first successful steamship voyage—that of Robert Fulton's little Clermont, between New York and Albany, on August, 7, 1807

The Clermont was followed in 1816, by the larger and faster Livingston. Thereafter our coastal and river steam shipping grew rapidly.

American daring and genius startled the world in 1819 when our Savannah was the first steamship to make the transatlantic crossing. This feat is celebrated annually on National Maritime Day, May 22, by Presidential Proclamation

Early steamships, even up to 1860 were also equipped with sails, averaged only about 10 miles per hour, and were considered unreliable by the captains of our mighty clippers and packets

In sail we were supreme - our wonderful clippers could sail circles around the early steamships - a fact which unfortunately blinded some Americans to the coming dominance of steam

To-day steam engines, diesel motors and turbo-electric drives are all used as fast means of propulsion for the steady stream of cargo ships sailing the world's oceans

AUTOISTS SHOULD NOT TRAVEL CENT. OREGON ROADS

Critical highway routes in the central Oregon army maneuver area during the next three months will be Highway 97, from Redmond to Lapine; Highways 20 and 28 from Sisters to Redmond and Bend and Burns, and Highways 395 and 31, according to Secretary of State Bob Farrell.

"During the months September, October and part of November, these highways will be used extensively by the army for hauling supplies and troop movements," Farrell said. "In the face of this increased use by the military, it is important that civilian drivers cooperate with military officials to avoid traffic accidents that might involve military personnel and equipment."

"Since actual war conditions are simulated so far as possible, much of the army use of the highways will be at night," Farrell said, "and many of these movements will simulate blackout conditions. This means that vehicles and troops will move along the highways at night without showing lights."

Civilian vehicles proceeding at high speeds along these highways would be a dangerous menace to these troop and vehicles movements. Accidents involving military equipment will hold up training activities and thus hamper the maneuver program of the army.

"Every civilian driver should consider it part of his duty to his country to cooperate with military authorities to prevent traffic accidents in the maneuver area in this state," the secretary of state declared. "It would be tragic irony should a civilian driver, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, cause the death of army personnel being trained to fight for this country on the battlefields of the world."

Farrell laid special emphasis on the need to comply with traffic directions given by military police, and wherever possible, he said, avoid driving in the maneuver areas at night.

May Be Tip Here For Permit Holders

Dr. M. J. Belton, veterinarian for the state department of agriculture, was rushed to the James Steinlechner farm north of Florence to investigate what the telephone summons gave suspicion of what might be hog cholera.

Belton found the 46 hogs were reeling and wobbling around all right, and having not a little trouble handling their posterior parts. But not because they had any disease—the hogs were drunk on fermented whey!
