I AM RICH

The following article was taken from a magazine that came to our desk, and it is such a fine article that we give it to you as a Christmas offering. We think it rates that.

At the top of the page neatly designed above this article was this expression: "You can succeed . . . if you know the power that is in you." This is the same philosophy that we have tried to impress our readers with ever since we have published The News.

As long as my eyes can see and my body can feel the sun's bright rays, I shall not be poor; for there is more "gold" in the sun than in all the mines and in the world.

As long as my feet can tread the ground I shall walk on a carpet more priceless than any made by man, a carpet of precious earth that nurtures the roots and seeds of God's growing world, a carpet that bears a message of the Resurrection—reminding me that life may disappear for a season but it will return more bountiful than before.

As long as my heart goes out in sympathy to my fellow men and I can whisper a prayer of encouragement, hope, and love in their behalf, I shall possess riches untold. As long as I can still the human part of me and contact the Christ Spirit that dwells within me, I can triumphantly say, "I am not poor."

As surely as the omnipotent God made heaven and earth, He made me ruler of my own destiny. With my hand in His I can face the world cheerfully and unafraid, because I know that deep within me dwells the divine spark that makes me a joint heir with Christ in God's kingdom.

A candidate for heaven: The husband when he has mislaid anything, does not say to his wife, "Maria, where did you put it?"—Selected.
