Washington Letter

Before adjourning for the Easter recess, the house committee on public lands, concluded hearings on my bill, H. R. 1688, which would clarify the jurisdictional dispute over some 460,000 acres of land, mostly forest land, located in Western Oregon. At present this land is claimed by both the U. S. Forest Service and the O. & C. Administration. Since the lands were actually a part of the original O. & C. grant, this bill would place the lands under O. & C. As soon as Congress reconvenes, the committee will hold an executive session on this bill and will, I hope, report it out favorably to the floor. This bill is a companion bill to one introduced in the Senate by the late Senator McNary. When the Senate passed it, however, certain amendments were added which had the effect of placing the administration of the lands under the Forest Service but providing payment to the counties on the basis of O. & C. payments. This amendment does not seem to be a proper solution of the problem and apparently was adopted by the Senate committee for the reason that some of the controverted lands are intermingled with Forest Service lands—just as are some 450,000 other acres of O. & C. lands. It is likely the House committee will work out a permanent solution of this difficulty by exchanging and blocking off both O. & C. lands and forest lands in solid areas distinct from each other.
