

WATCH YOUR MATCHES WHILE DRIVING HIGHWAYS

"Travelers on eastern Oregon highways have been sabotaging the war effort," said W. J. Moyer, Grants Pass, Keep Oregon Green Josephine county chairman, in commenting today on the large number of roadside fires in grass and wheat lands in this section which have been started by a carelessly thrown cigarette or match from passing cars.

"I doubt if any of the several fires in this county which have burned into valuable grain and grasslands were started intentionally," the county leader pointed out. "In the majority of cases these fires were started when some smoker flipped his lighted match or cigarette out the car window instead of using the ashtray. It is the duty of every person to help stop these fires which are destroying our much needed food supply."

"With eastern Oregon drier than usual because of a shortage of rainfall, the danger this summer is greater than ever," the Keep Oregon Green leader said. "Manpower is equally short and much needed in the harvest. Men can not be spared for fire fighting. One carelessly started roadside fire last month destroyed 20,000 acres of ripe grain and 10,000 acres of grasslands. This is pure criminal carelessness."

"After the war, food will be critical because this nation will not doubt be called upon to help feed liberated Europe," the fire prevention spokesman said. "Let every man and woman in this county do his share to Keep Oregon Green."

Shift in AAA Emphasis Seen Following War End

One of the early functions of the AAA after the war will be to help American farmers adjust to the changes necessary in the switch from wartime to peacetime production, predicted George Weaver, national AAA official who was in Oregon recently helping to prepare the 1945 Oregon handbook of AAA practices.

With the advent of the war the AAA changed its emphasis quickly from basic crop control and adjustment to the encouragement of farming practices which would help insure maximum production with minimum damage to the nation's soil resources, said Weaver. In the same way, it will have to be prepared to adjust to peacetime conditions as soon as the war ends.

Work on the Oregon handbook was completed the first week in August so that it will be ready for use in the near future.

Tractor Riding "Grandma" Praises War Bond League

Mrs. K. C. Henkle of Kenton, Ohio, does more than her share of war work. She and her husband run two farms at maximum production and with almost no outside help. In addition, Mrs. Henkle is chairman in her township for War Bond sales, for the Red Cross and for the combined scrap paper and grease salvage campaign. She is also a writer and has composed poems for War Bond and Red Cross programs over Stations WMRN, Marion, and WLW, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Henkle, who has an Army son, a Navy son, and an Army son-in-law, enthusiastically endorses Mrs. George C. Marshall's appeal to grandmothers to buy Bonds for their grand children. She herself takes turns buying Bonds for her five grandchildren ranging in age from 4 months to 11 years. "Those Bonds," she says, "will help educate the children and set them up in business and farms ten happy years from now."

The Grandmothers League was founded by General Marshall's wife and has been widely accepted as a worthy and unselfish Bond-buying drive.

Washington Letter

mittee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments are incorporated in the bill now under discussion.

The objectives of the bill are set forth in Section 1 as follows: "The Congress hereby declares that the objectives of this Act are to facilitate and regulate the orderly disposal of surplus property so as—

(a) To assure the most effective use of such property for the purposes of war and national defense;

(b) To facilitate the transition of enterprises from wartime to peacetime production and of individuals from wartime to peacetime employment;

(c) To promote production, employment of labor, and utilization of the productive capacity and the natural and agricultural resources of the country;

(d) To avoid dislocations of the domestic economy and of international economic relations;

(e) To discourage monopolistic practices, preserve and strengthen the competitive position of small business;

(f) To foster the wide distribution of surplus commodities to consumers at fair prices;

(g) To effect broad and equitable distribution of surplus property; and

(h) To realize the highest obtainable return for the government consistent with the maintenance and encouragement of a healthy competitive economy.
