Enumerators Wanted For Valley Farms

Offices for Census District No. 2 of Oregon, comprising Lane, Linn, Douglas, Josephine, Jackson, Coos, and Curry counties have been opening in the Lumberman's Building, 121 East Broadway, Eugene, Oregon, announces Paul N. Plank who has been named local supervisor in charge of the area.

George H. Todd, Eugene, has just recently been announced here as assistant supervisor to Plank. Enumeration of farms which occurs every five years, by act of Congress, will start January 8, 1945.

Plank asks that all persons interested in assisting with this work contact his office or write. First preference in hiring of enumerators will be given to veterans, thereafter to anyone qualified. It is urged, that farmers and their wives consider seriously helping to the job of enumerating.

GRANGES OF COUNTY HAVE LARGE QUOTA

Josephine county's seven granges will be responsible for this county's farm quota in the Sixth War Loan, it was announced by County Chairman Charles R. Cooley.

Granges of eastern Oregon are competing in selling bonds in this campaign for registered Aberdeen Angus bull and a pure bred Duroc Jersey sow, while in western Oregon granges are in competition for a registered Jersey bull and a pure bred Romney ram, according to Morton Thompson, master of the state grange.

Grange quotas for this county as announced by C. H. Brooks, master of Josephine county Pomona grange are: Illinois Valley, $57,000; Deer Creek, $44,500; Fruitdale, $30,000; Williams, $30,000; Rogue River valley, $104,000; Redwood, $86,500; Shan Creek, $23,500.

MINING LAWS IN O. & C. BILL

Mining laws were made applicable to the Oregon-California re-vested grant lands, under an amendment added by Representative White (D-Idaho) to the O & C authority bill, says a press dispatch this week in the Grants Pass Courier.

The public lands committee approved White's amendment to the bill adding a mining provision similar to that contained in the Taylor Grazing act. It reads:

"Nothing herein contained shall restrict prospecting, locating, de-

Knit Sweaters to Buy More Bonds

Sweaters are dear to the school-girl's heart. Because she likes them warm, colorful, and smartly styled, she is knitting her own to have these qualities on a minimum budget. Fashionable extended shoulders and cardigan neckline win top honors for this gray sweater gaily striped with bands of yellow, red and green. There's a matching stocking cap for campus and sports wear. Invest the precious money saved by knitting your own sweaters in extra War Bonds.

velopment of mining, entering, leasing or patenting mining reservations under laws applicable thereto."

The bill itself would transfer the administration of re-vested forest lands, now handled by the forest service, to the O & C administration. It has been placed on the House calendar with favorable committee recommendation.

BULB RAISING

The speaker had a chart that showed the increase from the bulb. From the mother bulb came bulb-lets that gave 24 commercial bulbs the second year and 160 bulb-lets. The 160 bulb-lets would be commercial the following year with a corresponding increase from each bulb. One can see where the bulbs would increase to such proportions that commercial bulbs would be so plentiful the market would be so badly bent it would not be profitable to raise them.

Stressing quality, not quantity, Mr. McWhorter said that a very profitable business could be built up, but he impressed strongly on quality of bulbs and do not keep the market glutted.

Japan was the chief supplier of bulbs before the war. The price paid for Japanese bulbs was 3 cents for bulbs five to nine inches; four and a half cents for bulbs nine to 10 inches; six cents for 10 to 11 inches. Contrast this price with what bulbs bring now and try to visualize what is going to happen when the buyers can buy all they want and pick what they want.

Mr. McWhorter gave a very interesting lecture on lily bulbs and showed some interesting pictures concerning them. We do not have space to tell all he told about lily culture and the different species. He did say, however, that lily bulbs could be raised here successfully.

Sunday school attendance for Dec. 3 was 63. Visitors included Jean Bowerman, Mrs. Davis, Priscilla and Millicent Davis, and Charlene Walton. Instead of having the feltogram story, Rev. Chaplin gave a short talk on articles and habits in Bolivia.

The Scripture lesson, read by Rev. Chaplin, was found in Acts 14:19-28, and his topic was "Bolivian Missions."

Mrs. Clara Dick sang a special number entitled "He Was Not Willing."

Following the Young People's meeting Sunday evening, slides of Bolivia were shown.
