Fern Fires Do Little Damage

SALEM — (Special) — Giving full credit to Oregon citizens for splendid cooperation in preventing forest fires and an assist to Jupiter Pluvius for providing rain at the right moment, State Forester N. S. Rogers said the state had just finished its best spring fire season in years. Only 772 acres were destroyed in spring fern fires this year to May 15, Rogers reported, as against 1804 last spring and 25,000 in 1943 for the same period.

"Much of the credit for this remarkably low fire loss belongs to the hundreds of Oregon citizens who actively sponsor Keep Oregon Green fire prevention work in every county in the state," Forester Rogers acknowledged. "Keep Oregon Green officials have, by a well conceived educational program, sold the citizens of Oregon on preventing fires, and thus save our great timber resource from wasteful destruction."

Douglas and Lincoln counties reported no spring fires this year, according to the Rogers report. Western Oregon counties reported 476 acres burned and east of the mountains 296 acres went up in fire. There were but 34 man-caused fires this spring and 17 of these were classed as incendiary, one started from railroads, 3 from loggers, 7 from slash and debris blazes, one from campfires, and smokers were responsible for 4.

Rules to Obey in Finding Jap Balloons

SALEM — The Japanese balloon bomb campaign need not discourage the holding of summer camps, State Defense Administrator Jack A. Hayes said today.

Hayes pointed out the tremendous odds against a balloon or bomb being found in any particular area, but he urged that every person going into the woods be thoroughly familiar with the rules suggested by the army for persons finding a balloon or a bomb.

First of all, no person should touch an unidentified object.

Here are the rules Hayes suggested in case a balloon or a bomb is found:

1. Do not touch it.
2. Stay at least 100 yards away and keep others that distance away.
3. Leave a guard to keep people away.
4. Report the location to the nearest sheriff or police officer.

DEATH TAKES

OLD MINER COMES BACK TO OLD DIGGINS'

Mrs. Ethel Banta took her pack horses and went to Bolan creek with Frank Erwin, recently from Alaska, but originally from the Illinois valley.

Mr. Erwin has been in Alaska 40 years, 41 years ago he was located on Bolan creek, and now he has come back to see if his old property is still there.

Mrs. Edda Ortman returned to Kerby from Los Angeles last week end to join her father, Ed Burke, and expects to remain until her husband returns from overseas. Mrs. Ortman has been employed in the southern city for the past six months.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

TOM: "It's mighty nice to receive a compliment like you've just given us, Judge. We do take our responsibilities very seriously and try to do the right thing with everybody. In spite of it, we get criticized now and then."

OLD JUDGE: "I know... you've got to take the bitter with the sweet in times like these. Speaking of criticism, and I mean really unfair criticism, reminds me of the spirit beverage business."

FRANK: "How is that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Simply this... can you think of any other business in which the seller is responsible for what the buyer does with his merchandise? If a person eats too much cake and gets indigestion, the baker isn't blamed. Nor is the coffee merchant criticized if someone drinks too much coffee and can't sleep. But the seller of spirit beverages gets blamed plenty if one of his customers overindulges. Doesn't seem quite fair, does it, Tom?"

TOM: "Frankly, it doesn't, Judge. We've never looked at it that way before."
