THEATER STORY

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

There'll be fun galore at the Cave City Theater next Wednesday and Thursday, for the hilarious comedy hit "Without Love" will be on the screen. Costarring Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn in a grand successor to their previous laugh hit, "Woman of the Year," "Without Love" is one of the most mirthful movies of the year.

You'll love Tracy as Pat Jamieson, a scientist-inventor looking, in crowded Washington, for a place to set up a workshop to perfect a high altitude oxygen mask for fliers at the Government's rethe 'New Moon' was sung by the stout hearted men of the boys' chorus; and the lilting title song from the 'Desert Song' by the girls' chorus. The mixed chorus sang a fantasy, "Morning" from Edvard Grieg's 'Peer Gynt' Suite, and the beautiful and popular "Serenade" by the immortal Schubert. "To A Wild Rose" by the American 'nature composer,' Edward MacDowell, was sung by the girls' chorus, and the hymn "Now The Day Is Over," a cappella, also by the girls' chorus. Talented Grace Iverson played the piano accompaniment for the vocal portion of the program.

Silver-voiced soprano Louise Mansfield was featured in two solos, the beautiful new song "Symphony," written by a GI in the occupation army in France; and Rudolf Friml's ever popular "Indian Love Call" from the operetta 'Rose Marie.'

The National Anthem, in its entirety, concluded the concert, which was enthusiastically received by the large audience.

Program notes for the glee clubs' portion of the program were narrated by Rebecca Freeman.

The background scenery for the occasion was built by students under the direction of Priscilla Davis, Shirley Clarke, Joan Galland and Lawrence Tabor.

County School Teachers Plan Years Program

A series of no-host luncheons have been held recently in Grants Pass at which all the teachers of the county were invited. The most recent one held was last Saturday March 2nd. The meetings were held for the purpose of discussing and planning for improving the teaching program for next year.

Those attending these luncheons from the valley were Mrs. Lela Runyan, Mrs. Herb Watts, Mrs. Irene Callahan, Mrs. A. E. Williams, Mrs. Pearl Griswold and Mrs. Arthur Cribb. Mrs. Neva Dallas, county school supervisor, conducted the meetings.

RUSTLERS TO MEET

The Bridgeview Rustlers 4-H club will meet in the Bridgeview Grange hall Tuesday, March 12, at 8 p. m.

quest. And you'll love Miss Hepburn as Jamie Rowan, a lovely girl who hires him as caretaker for her house and lets him use the basement as his laboratory.

Pat doesn't want love because, as he says, he's had "the worst of it;" Jamie, on the other hand, rejects love because she's had "the best of it." So she becomes Pat's assistant on the oxygen-mask project and, one day, proposes that they get married "without love."

SELMA NEWS

Arthur Wheeler, S 2/c, is home on leave visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wheeler.

Art Dedrick of the Log Cabin Garage is still in the hospital at Astoria receiving medical treatment. It is hoped he will be able to return home soon.

The 4-H Livestock club held its recent meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Kelley, leader of the Fur and Feather club. Members of the Junior Ranchers assisted in the program. Mrs. Fritz Krauss will be hostess for their next meeting on Monday, March 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dougherty have just written friends in the valley that they are now permanently located in Richmond, California. They formerly made their home in Selma before selling their ranch several months ago, and before settling down visited relatives in various places in California.

Frank Lima, chief water tender on the USS Missouri, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lima, former residents of Selma, at Sacramento. Frank joined the navy 17 years ago and was on the battleship North Carolina and Houston before being assigned to the Missouri. He has taken part in many naval operations while on active duty during the war. He wears gold stripes for service and stars for 12 major engagements. He witnessed the final surrender ceremony by the Japs on the Missouri. A brother, Luis, was killed in action while on a mission in a Flying Fortress over Germany after eleven months' service overseas. Mrs. J. A. Buckles is his sister.
