SMALL BUSINESS AID
The Department of Commerce has established a division known as the "Small Business Division" under the direction of Laurence F. Arnold, a former Member of Congress. The function of this division, as outlined to me in a letter from Mr. Arnold, is to answer questions from perplexed small businessmen as to how to obtain scarce materials and equipment, adjustment in price schedules, or some type of contract assistance. Such questions can either be sent to me or direct to Mr. Arnold, who may be addressed as follows:
Mr. Laurence F. Arnold,
Director,
Office of Small Business,
Department of Commerce,
Washington 25, D. C.

Batting the Breeze

By BARNEY

WHILE pondering on life the other day, our thoughts turned to the question of what is good and what is evil. It is a difficult question, but we did arrive at some conclusions. We feel that there is sometimes a neutral gap between the two. That is—that what is not evil is not necessarily good, or vice versa. Good, to us, is an active force and involves others. We do not concur in the thought that in merely abstaining from evil is one doing good. For example, if someone says to you, "Let's rob this house," and you merely reply, "No, I don't want to," you are just refusing to do evil. But if you go further and try to convince your tempter the error of his ways—then you are actively doing good.

The world has too many people who think they are good merely because for the most part they refrain from evil, but who are totally unconcerned about the moral or physical well being of their brothers. A classic example is that of the priest and the Levite in the story of the good Samaritan. These two men passed by the man who had been stripped and beaten by the robbers. True they did not do evil by going over to see if perchance the robbers had left anything of value which they could use—nor did they help the wounded man in his trouble. Then came the Samaritan, who, having compassion, bound up the victim's wounds and took him to the inn. Here is good in action.

We conclude that while good consists of doing good, evil, can not only consist of doing evil but, on occasion, of not doing good.

PENNSYLVANIA GLASS

Henry W. Seigel, ironmaster who turned to blowing and molding delicate and beautiful glassware, pioneered an industry in Pennsylvania that leads the Nation in many grades. Albert Gallatin, once Secretary of the Treasury, established the first flint glass industry at Pittsburgh in 1807. It adds wealth to guarantee Savings Bonds.

JUNE 30 A BIG DATE FOR ARMY MEN!

If you have been discharged from the Army—if you held a grade and wish to retain it—if you have dependents—then act now. . . . June 30, 1946, is the last day on which you can enlist in the Regular Army and still take advantage of two important benefits . . . retention of your old grade and family allowances.

Family allowances for your dependents will be continued throughout your enlistment only if you enter the Regular Army before July 1, 1946. . . . If you have been discharged from the Army and wish to re-enlist at your old grade, you must enlist within 90 days after your discharge. And before July 1, 1946. Think it over. Act now.

"OTHER things I buy have gone sky-high... How come Greyhound fares are actually LOWER?"

Fares in OREGON now down to 1 1/2¢ per mile!

IT'S TRUE! . . . Within the past 18 months Pacific Greyhound fares in Oregon have been reduced to a uniform one-and-a-half-cents-per-mile . . . while the price of nearly everything else has gone UP.

How did Greyhound do it?
By increasing the frequency of service in Oregon!

It works this way: As Greyhound adds more service, more people ride. 35 passengers can be carried for no more than it costs to carry 25. It costs little more to operate a depot for 6 buses a day than it does for 4 . . . and so on. If more people ride, Greyhound's cost of operation per passenger goes down.

Pacific Greyhound then passes this saving on to the people . . . in the form of the lowest fares in Oregon, and better, more frequent service than ever!

ONE OF THOUSANDS OF INDEPENDENT MOBILGAS BUSINESS MEN

Al Hofferber established his highly successful Mobilgas station in Tigard, Ore., in 1926. That he has been a business success is attested by the fact that he owns his home in Tigard, a 20-acre filbert farm on Bull Mountain, a ranch at Greenburg, an additional business property in Tigard and a small ranch nearby for his prized horses and dogs. He is married, has one son, and for years has been a member of the Clackamas County Sheriff's Posse.

Al Hofferber, Tigard, Oregon.

I may not have the biggest payroll in town, but my Mobilgas station pays off big in driving satisfaction to a lot of people who come to me for Mobilgas, Mobiloil and the best car care service I can give them.

You see, I'm in business for myself and independently set up to give the kind of service that will make my business grow. I realize that I can protect what I have at stake only as I please you and bring you back . . . and that's important in these times when good, dependable labor is in such demand.

The same is true wherever you see the sign of the Flying Red Horse, for Mobilgas stations are independently operated by small business men like myself. When you use Mobilgas and Mobiloil, you not only get top flight motor fuel and lubricants, but courteous and conscientious car care service.
