IT COULDN'T HAPPEN IN SOUTHERN OREGON

The following excerpt was taken from the Publishers Auxiliary, a trade newspaper for publishers and printers.

DECATUR, Mich.—A subscriber in renewing his subscription enclosed the following letter:

"In replying to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to Federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, brother-in-laws, mother-in-laws, sister-in-laws and out-laws.

"Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, school tax, food tax, furniture tax and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, hunting and fishing license, truck license and a dog license.

"I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life; to women's relief, the unemployment relief, the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the black cross, the purple cross and the double cross.

"For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, unemployment insurance, old-age and fire insurance.

"My business is so governed it

We were listening to some old and new Bing Crosby records the other night. It seems to us a rather nice way to spend an evening at home.

Known variously as The Groaner, Der Bingle and plain Bing, he seems to be a fine example of success minus the big head. Although intended by his family to be a lawyer, we are very glad he chose a career of singing. For, at the risk of a frown from the Bar Association, we wonder what difference one lawyer more or less can mean to the world.

From the glee club at Gonzaga, Bing has come a long way to being practically an American legend. And we are just old fashioned enough to like the idea of his being happy with Dixie Lee Crosby and the youngsters, instead of following the usual Hollywood custom of making a yearly divorce trip to Reno.

Bing seems to be a lazy, good natured guy, but his laziness doesn't extend to the things he likes most—singing and golf.

Probably few people have any idea of how many recordings of his "Stardust" have been made, and the figures on "White Christmas" are absolutely astronomical.

Let the Bobbie-Soxers swoon to Sinatra—we are content to be soothed by the soft smooth voice of old Bing.

Is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, dejected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need of the human race.

"Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, help up, held down and robbed until I am almost ruined.

"I can tell you honestly that except for a miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money."

QUOTES OF THE WEEK

"The dog had fleas!"—Mrs. Letha Wagoner, San Diego, Cal., who, asking divorce, said hubby made her sleep with the pooch.

"Why discourage young people from getting married?"—County Clerk E. Beemer, Reno, objecting to upping license fee to $5.

"A city wife is worth a lot less!"—Gertrude Dieken, farm paper editor, who assays country wife's lifetime worth at $69,000.

"Increasing wages without lifting productivity of workers doesn't make for higher living standards and greater purchasing power."—Leslie Gould, financial editor.

"The country is tired of needless and wasteful spending, and being soaked with burdening taxes because of faults of the government."—Rep. Knutson, Minn.

"A Washington optimist is a fellow that doesn't care what happens—as long as it doesn't happen to him!"—Herb Shriner, commentator.
