O'BRIEN SAYS

is also a native of Oregon. The Woodburys have a son, William, who is employed in Cave Junction, and another son, Frank Allen, who is in the U. S. Army stationed at El Paso, Texas.

Mr. Woodbury's mother, Mrs. Margaret Woodbury, lives in Grants Pass, has been in ill health for some time, and the family spends considerable time there with her.

For newcomers, the same attractions exist that drew the pioneers. The trees are just as green, and the opportunities are as great for development now as years ago, although in a difference sense.

Contributions for this column should be left at the O'Brien store not later than Wednesday noon for that week's publication.

"DEPENDABLE" is the word for BERKELEY WATER SYSTEMS

The only pump that stays primed if the water in the well draws down. to the foot valve and admits air in to the pump. No more fussing with bucket and funnel!

At the right is a cross-sectional view of Berkeley two stage systems. Circulation of water within these pumps—unlike any other design on the market—is covered by Berkeley patent. It is better in three ways: First, it assures maintenance of prime through positive jet action; second, it increases pump life by almost eliminating end-thrust; third, it makes possible a shorter shaft and more compact construction.

The same basic pump is used for both deep and shallow wells. Conversion is easy—simply add the jet for deep well service. As a shallow well system, the pump has two separate outlets, high pressure for household, low pressure for flood irrigation.

Call us up for literature... or better, come in and check every feature of our floor models. You will like their hand-some, rugged appearance; but more important, you will appreciate, as other BERKELEY owners do, their positive, year-round dependability.
