

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hetherington, recent arrivals from Portland, are residents of O'Brien, where they will now make their home permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Croy, of the Medford Mail-Tribune, were in Cave Junction for a short time this week and were on their way to the Oregon Caves.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peebler and family of Phoenix, Oregon, visited the W. A. Colbys of Cave Junction Motor Court, and while here were doing some fishing at the same time.

George W. Starmose, arrived in the Valley last week from Arizona where he has spent most of about 24 years. He sold his property there and will devote much of his time taking care of his ranch.

R. A. Smith and family, have returned to the Valley and will reside here permanently. They own a ranch near Holland, and are busy making new improvements and alterations. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mr. Smith's parents. Plans are now being contemplated for the construction of a new home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McCraner left for their home in Rosemead, California, and while here were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kent in Selma. They were looking after property interests which they have in the Valley.

A. J. Bin and Edward Baffino of San Francisco, arrived last weekend to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Colby of Cave Junction Motor Court. They left early Tuesday morning for Crater Lake and will return to visit longer with the Colbys before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coulter of Vancouver, Washington, were visiting friends in the Valley last weekend. Old Timers will remember Mr. Coulter, as for a number of years he lived in the Valley.
