1947 Unemployment Compensation Ends Week of July 2nd

The week ending July 2nd, will be the last week which unemployment compensation can be paid based on 1947 earnings, stated H. V. Retherford, manager of the Grants Pass employment office.

For those who are currently reporting, initial claims will be taken on June 21 at Cave Junction, to establish a claim based on 1948 earnings. To be eligible for benefits, the person must have earned at least $400.00 in subject employment in Oregon and meet the requirements of the law.

declared out of order on the ground that the motion was not subject to amendment. . . . Thus we find ourselves in the present unfortunate predicament of trying on the floor of the Senate to write the detailed provisions of labor legislation which should have been written in the committee."

Only a few more important bills will be considered during this session. The Federal Public Housing bill will come up for action. The Atlantic Pact will be taken up by the Senate. Some sort of labor bill will be enacted. There will be a gesture or two toward doing something about the Hoover commission recommendations — but not much. The socialized medicine bill will not come up. Nothing much will be done about CVA except to hold hearings, probably in the west.

Even though the President may want the Congress to stay in session until late summer, there will be little disposition on the part of the members to do so. The reason is; first, that the House members, at least the members on the majority side, are in sharp disagreement among themselves. Many feel that some time is needed to whip the situation into shape. The second reason why Congress will not want to stay in session past mid-July is that both the Senate and House chambers are being re-

Sylvester Says:

"You've got a choice here!"

The only country in the world where you can still choose your own style of clothing; choose to build a home of your own; choose the materials and location. Take away the right to choose, to select, and to own and you destroy democracy. On a nationwide scale here's how Americans choose to spend their incomes.

They spend four times more for food than they do for housing and rent. They spend 1½ times more for clothing and 1½ times more for household expenses. They spend as much on liquor and tobacco as they do on homes and they spend twice as much for liquor, tobacco, travel, entertainment, horseracing, cosmetics and other things rarely referred to as necessities than they do on housing.

It's a great country. You still have a chance to choose between freedom and government-controlled regimentation.
