Use of Aspen
Because aspen possesses no natural durability, all aspen products used in contact with the soil decay rapidly, and such products as untreated aspen fence posts rarely last more than three to four years. When aspen is used for sills of buildings, bridge planking, and the lower logs of log cabins, where the products are not in contact with the soil but may become moist and remain moist for considerable periods, deterioration by decay may also develop rapidly.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Don't Fence Yourself In

Every spring, Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts patch up the stone wall that separates their farms. They walk along talking—Easy on one side, Handy on the other—picking up the fallen stones and putting them back.

Afterwards, over a friendly glass of beer, Easy says, "You know, wall-mending is a nice neighborly custom, but we really don't need that wall. We keep it up just because it happens to be there."

"Yes," says Handy, "a lot of walls and fences and boundaries keep on separating people for no good reason. Maybe we'd all be better off if some of them were torn down, instead of kept standing."

From where I sit, Handy said a mouthful. Take the "walls of intolerance" that people build up against each other. I like a temperate glass of beer now and then, you may prefer buttermilk—but that's no reason for me to criticize you, or you, me. Let's live and let live together—making more friends and fewer "walls."
