DES MOINES DISINFLATION !

Ralph Watson Appointed To Highway Position

The Oregon State Highway Commission has appointed Ralph Watson of Portland in the capacity of a Public Relations Consultant to aid it in keeping the public more currently and fully informed regarding the scope and the progress of its construction program.

In the earlier years of the Commission's operation, which years were confined primarily to the development and prosecution of the main state highway system, it was the belief of the Commission and its staff that the continual statewide progress in highway construction would serve as sufficient general information to the public of the work being accomplished.

As the program has been pushed continually farther toward completion it has ceased to be merely a project of state highway building but has been broadened to include city streets, county roads, bridges; — an integrated, standardized system of transportation arteries covering the state.

This program of construction and of maintenance is being paid for by those members of the public who use the roads and highways, together with monies granted by the federal government. The present commission feels that those who are providing the money are entitled to full knowledge of how, where and when that money is being spent. It is with this idea in mind that the Commission has employed Mr. Watson to formulate the story of the Commission's operations and to furnish it, as it develops, to the press of the state and through that medium to all those who are contributors to the highway fund, and to all those who use the roads.

Quartzite Rock

In the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia the quartzite rock, used in making silicon, chrome and tungsten alloys is so hard that it defies steel drills. Oxyacetylene torches burn as far as 20 feet into the surrounding rock and the quartzite is blasted out with dynamite.
