Peacetime Record

Iron ore production in the United States in 1948 set a peacetime record at 101,350,000 gross tons, nearly nine per cent above the 1947 output, according to a bureau of mines report. This tonnage, the second highest in history, was 4,176,000 tons less than in the top year 1942. All major iron ore producing districts exceeded their 1947 output. Lake Superior mines produced 83,116,000.

Animals Subject to Two Ailments Common to Humans

LINCOLN, NEB.—Humans never suffer from diseases like rabies, hoof-and-mouth disease or strangles common only to animals, but animals are subject to at least two diseases generally believed to be common only to humans—"hives" and hay fever.

The American Foundation for Animal Health reports the same types of antihistamine medicines often successful in treating these conditions in man now are being used with pets and farm animals. Upon coming in contact with or eating certain plants, the foundation said, horses and cattle commonly founder, or develop nettle rash or a severe form of sore mouth.

"Virginia Tobacco" North Carolinians can't do anything about it, but most so-called "Virginia" tobacco is raised in their state, and they also raise more "Virginia" peanuts than Virginia does.

Sweet Corn Sweet corn was not known to white men till the discovery of America, after which time it became popular; increasingly so since 1900, largely due to the development of hybrid corn.

Coffee for Health

In the tropics, coffee is regarded as a health measure. Inhabitants of certain South Sea Islands chew coffee beans when suffering from indigestion.

15 Million Hens Give Bakers Two Trillion Eggs a Year

CHICAGO—The bakers of America keep approximately 15,500,000 average hens busy each year providing the 2,706,000,000 eggs used in baking enriched bread and other bakery products, according to the American Bakers' association.

About 225,000,000 dozen or 300,000,000 pounds of eggs are purchased from the American farmer annually, the association pointed out, explaining that the baking industry is the farmer's biggest industrial customer.

The bakers' purchases of flour, milk, cane and beet sugar and other farm products total close to a billion dollars annually.

First Invention at 14

Now lost in obscurity, but well known in his day, was Tom Blanchard, who at 14 conceived a handy apple parer that peeled the fruit twice as fast as could be done by hand. Four years later he developed a machine that turned out 500 tacks a minute.
