Coast Guard Reveals Beam

'Wavering' at Air Crash Site

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA.—The coast guard revealed that the radio beam on Annette island, where a Pan-American DC 4 crash took 18 lives, was found to be "wavering" on the day after the crash.

Neither the coast guard nor the civil aeronautics authority would comment on the possibility of the beam having been "wavering" on the day of the crash. The Pan-American Clipper plowed into Tangas mountain apparently while attempting to land at Annette island during a storm.

Phone
Frankster Has Fun

ROCKFORD, ILL.—A telephone prankster kept Rockford's police department busy when he placed orders with seven business firms for a harassed citizen.

The householder found an undertaker at his door waiting for a corpse. Two painters arrived to paint the house. Sixteen cases of soft drinks were left on his porch. A city water department employee arrived to check the water pressure.

A lumber company delivered a ton of coke. A landscaping firm arrived with a load of dirt and at 6:15 a. m., a sanitary district truck showed up with a load of fertilizer.

Water Moccasin Bites Man
Three Times; He Feels Fine

DUNCAN, OKLA.—A doctor requested some snake-bite serum for James Allredd, 22, who was bitten three times by a water moccasin while fishing.

The state highway patrol got the serum in Oklahoma City and patrol cars hurried it here by relay. Allredd thanked the troopers for their trouble but refused to take the anti-toxin.

"I feel fine," he insisted.

Upholstered Furniture Care

The care and cleaning of upholstered furniture is a routine task, if it is kept clean and free of moths. It should be brushed thoroughly at least twice a month. Use a vacuum cleaner on upholstered goods except where the cushions are down-filled; this will keep the material free from dust and help to eliminate the danger of moths. Thoroughly brushing will break up the eggs. When brushing, pay particular attention to seams, pockets, crevices and the back of the furniture. Remove the loose cushions and brush as deeply as possible in the spaces between the seat, the back and the arms. This should remove the breeding places of moths.
