WOULD LIKE TO MEET "LOTTA"!

Lotta Runabout is a shopper—a real dyed-in-the-wool, hustle and bustle shopper—and Manchel's would like to meet her.

Several years ago Lotta found an honest-to-goodness bargain at a sale and she's been a confirmed shopper ever since.

(We don't blame her—folks should get the most they can for their money.)

So when Lotta and her husband and their youngsters moved recently and had to furnish a new home, Lotta hit the trail.

Store after store, sale after sale, Lotta visited nearly every one. She bought a davenport from one store, a mattress from another, an electric range from a third... and so on, right down the line.

(At the end of the first day, Lotta looked like she was leading a safari.)

Lotta was tickled pink at her business acumen. After all, she'd saved $15 on the range, $3.95 on the sofa, and 10 whole dollars on the mattress, hadn't she?

(Even if no one other than the salesmen had ever heard of the brand names she bought, Lotta knew a value when she saw one.)

Everything went fine after her shopping spree. The doctor even let her get up and walk around the house after a few days and pronounced her healthy and normal again—a little tired perhaps, but good as new otherwise.

Then the avalanche began. For days and days, nearly every delivery truck in town stopped at Lotta's home. Some came early, some came late, some didn't come at all ('til Lotta called twice and talked to the manager himself.)

But somehow things didn't work out exactly as Lotta had planned. The color of the davenport (which she was sure she remembered correctly) clashed horribly with the rug she ordered from another store; the mattress, it developed, felt fine to the hand but not to the sleeping body. Much of the other furniture was not guaranteed (although she wouldn't discover that 'til a while later.)

Now Lotta wishes she had an accountant to help her keep track of the payments that keep falling due. Instead of one account, Lotta has half a dozen and it's confusing to remember whom she owes when... and how much.

All in all, it takes a lot of doing to be a successful "shopper"—as Lotta is beginning to suspect.

Maybe Lotta's troubles are partly our fault, for not letting her know how she could have missed her present difficulties.

(We would have been glad to tell her... if she had only stopped in. But since she didn't, we'd like to go on record in her newspaper with a few facts that should interest her now.)

Guess Lotta didn't know that Manchel's prices are just as low as anyone's... for furniture of dependable quality.

Probably Lotta never heard that Manchel's furnish homes from floor to ceiling, from nursery to kitchen (even to draperies and venetian blinds.) Ours is the only "one stop" furniture store in town and we're sort of proud of that.

Our guarantee on every item we sell should be another novelty to Lotta. We've been here quite a few years now and we'll be here quite a few more—ready to back up every guarantee we make.

And what a blessing our credit terms would be to Lotta... easy to arrange and simple to understand, allowing as much as two years to pay on many items.

And all those delivery trucks that bothered Lotta could have been replaced by any one from our own fleet. Then her purchases would have been delivered promptly, spotlessly clean and dry, by an employee of our store—not by a disinterested third person.

All this, in addition to our having one of the largest furniture selections in Southern Oregon, should have a lot of meaning for Lotta... now.

When you are looking for furniture, why not save yourself a "Lotta" trouble by stopping here first—we think you'll agree that we have a great deal to offer you. But don't take our word for it—ask any of our customers what she likes about our services.

Chances are, you'll hear a dozen reasons why Manchel's customers are satisfied customers.

This is a paid advertisement by MANCHEL'S—"Furniture You'll Admire At Prices You'll Appreciate", stores in Cave Junction and Grants Pass.
