Noising Around

With Edith Farlien

Eunice (Mrs. "Home-again") Sudbury, is back after an approximate 7,500 miles of flying. The coat of tan is just simply wonderful, but the "figger" was real enough to make "Butch" give out with a real "wolf whistle."—So glad you are back boss! We really missed you!!

Saw Opal Richardson out taking a walk after a long illness. Glad you are able to be up again and hope you will soon be fully recovered!!

Blake and Jean Thompson and little daughter Judy are home again after a trip to Washington. —Did you have a nice time folks?

Was up to see Jimmy over last week-end. Am happy to report he is feeling fine—has gained weight—and is much better.

Well folks—It's kinda like I allus say—At times it is better to keep silent and let folks think you are stupid, than to speak up and remove all doubt. See you next week! -

IT'S A VERY NEW HOUSECOAT

St. Marys Robes

THE NEWEST housecoats and at-home wear designed for this Spring and Summer are so pretty, and so unusual, that many girls and women will give them double duty as dresses, for street and party wear. This trend in play cottons and unusual chintzes for at-home wear was launched by St. Marys Robes as featured favorites in their showings of sheer woolens, nylons, cottons and rayon fashions. This long-skirt housecoat has a shirtmaker top of play cotton, with a gay chintz skirt. The top is cut with the popular bat sleeves, young collar and wide cuffs in pale pink, aqua or soft yellow. The skirt, gracefully full, is zippered down the front and made of a delightful fruit-and-butterfly pattern in beautiful natural colors on white, beige, pale yellow or grey ground. Put it on in the morning to serve breakfast to your favorite husband. Or put it on at noon, to serve a tray luncheon on the porch or in the dinette. And you can wear it dancing in the evening, or to a neighbor's buffet party. These cottons are preshrunk and washable; only the skirt needs ironing.
