

Playing At The Ivy Sunday

Rhonda Fleming has Bob Hope's heart in a tangle in this scene from "The Great Lover."

LOCALS

The Venerable Reverend Perry Smith, Archdeacon of the diocese of Oregon, and The Reverend Leslie D. Dunton were visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Basham and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kohlscheen, Tuesday.

The Reverend Leslie Dunton was dinner guest Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kohlscheen.

The Episcopal Group met Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Rosalie Seifert in Selma.

Last Thursday evening Sybil Cockran while working for the Salvage Lumber Company was seriously injured and taken to the Josephine General Hospital in Grants Pass by the Valley Ambulance Service.

Favorite Recipe Corner

There are times when you get so tired of trying to figure out a menu. You've had roast this and that, chops etc., and you just wish you knew of one simple recipe that would please the whole family. Norma Mae Fulmer has just the recipe. Here it is:

Ham Chop Suey

1 slice ham diced
1/4 cup olive oil or Wesson
3 cups onions sliced
1 1/2 cups celery diced
2 tablespoons molasses
1/2 to 3/4 cups water, flour
Saute diced ham in oil, add onion and celery and brown. Add water and molasses, thicken all with a little flour. Cook slowly until tender. Serve over fluffy rice.

Send in your favorite recipe, ladies. We would like to hear from you.

New Drug Store, new drug prices.

SHOW REVUE

Saturday—

Johnny Sheffield and Peggy Ann Garner star in "Bomba, the Jungle Boy."

The plot goes something like this: The daughter of a famed photographer becomes lost on an African expedition, and is found by a white boy about her own age, clad in a brief leopard skin. They enjoy life together, as it develops that the boy was brought to the jungle as a wee infant by a father who disliked humanity.

Sunday and Monday—

Although he didn't have his first date with a girl until he reached the ripe age of four, and hasn't had one since, Bob Hope makes a desperate but vain bid for matinee idol honors as the title rolist in Paramount's mirthful comedy, "The Great Lover."

Tuesday and Wednesday—

It isn't very often that we utilize these columns to discuss movies. However, we were privileged the other evening to be invited to a private showing of a production which we feel is important enough in every respect to merit our consideration here.

The film is "The Red Menace," an outspoken indictment of Communist infiltration into America, produced by Republic Studios.

Thursday and Friday—

Promising 90 minutes of excitement, drama and romance "The Kid From Cleveland," combines all the elements required of wholesome family entertainment.

The story relates the trials and tribulations of one wayward boy, Johnny Barrows, brilliantly portrayed by Rusty Tamblin, mal-adjusted because of a home condition involving a step-father. Sneaking into the Cleveland Municipal Stadium for one of the World Series games between the Indians and the Boston Braves, he is discovered by the ball players and a local radio sports announcer, George Brent.

"The Kid From Cleveland" is noteworthy for many things. The baseball episodes feature real players performing as they actually do on the field. The dramatic episodes make little concession to Hollywood artifice.

In addition to Brent, Miss Bari and Master Tamblin, the cast includes Ann Doran, Louis Jean Heydt, Tommy Cook and K. Elmo Lowe.
