SHOW REVUE

FRIDAY and SATURDAY — Revolving around the activities of an outlaw band on the Middle Border shortly after the close of the Civil War, the "Best of the Badmen" in color presents a notable cast in a stirring western drama.

Robert Ryan, Claire Trevor, Jack Buettel and Robert Preston are starred in the exciting picture, Ryan portraying the central role of a Northern officer who befriends the bandits but arouses the enmity of a crooked detective. Framed on a murder charge, he joins the outlaw group to save his life, and thereafter wages an exciting struggle with his opponent which leads to a thrill-laden climax.

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY — The exciting action typical of Tim Holt's Western adventures fills the young star's newest drama, "Rider From Tucson."

The Colorado mining country is the setting for most of the thriller, which revolves about the plight of a young prospector whose valuable gold strike is being threatened by a gang of claim-jumpers.

Holt and his pal, Richard Martin, a pair of cowpunchers, take a hand in the affair as friends of the prospector, and promptly find themselves engaged in a murderous struggle with the crooks before matters are finally cleared up.

AND

All the swashbuckling adventure associated with the name of storyman Alexandre Dumas comes brilliantly to life in the adaption of his work, "The Sword of Monte Cristo."

Filed in Supercinecolor, "The Sword of Monte Cristo" is one of the visual treats of the year. The high-budget offering stars rugged George Montgomery and lovely newcomer Paula Corday in its key roles.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY — Susan Hayward, Dan Dailey and George Sanders, one of the season's brightest star rosters, hold down the leading roles in the much heralded film "I Can Get It For You Wholesale." Based on the best-selling novel of Jerome Weidman, which attracted wide attention by virtue of breaking new fictional ground, the picture has been brought to the screen under the guidance of veteran producer Sol C. Siegel.
