4-H Members Win 5 Firsts at Fair

All members of the Illinois Valley 4-H Dairy Club won prizes with their calves at the Wednesday morning judging at the County fair.

Five first places, two reserve champion and one junior champion awards were won by the group.

Nine-year-old Carol Appy won a first place, a junior champion and the reserve champion of both registered and grade Guernseys with her junior (less than six months) grade Guernsey calf.

Danny DeMersseman was awarded first place with his senior (over six months, less than a year) calf, in the grade Holstein division, while Jerrie Hager won first, Carolyn DeMersseman, second, and Connie Hager fifth with their junior calves in that same division. Connie also won a reserve champion in grade Holsteins.

In the open class, little eight-year-old Carole Martin, who is not yet old enough for 4-H work, placed first with her Holstein calf and was awarded a junior championship and the grand championship in that division.
