(Leave News at O'Brien Store)

O'BRIEN—Mocre's Mill closed Saturday for the holidays, and will not resume operations until January 5. Each employee of the mill received a Christmas turkey this year, a gift from the owners.

The Cottage Cafe, at O'Brien closed December 15. Owner A. Keyes plans to open a cafe at the airport in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Curnow and their daughter, Martha Mae, left last week for Los Angeles where they will spend the Christmas holidays with her parents.

V. C. Brown, Ted Rogers and Mrs. Norma Burrows will recuperate rather than celebrate this holiday season. Mr. Brown entered the hospital at Klamath Falls December 14 for surgery, and Mr.

TIME FOR CAROLS . . . Men, women and children from Protestant churches blend their voices in carol singing before the blazing Yule log. This Christmas Eve custom is becoming increasingly popular throughout the country.

Rogers underwent surgery last week at the Josephine General hospital. Mrs. Burrows, Principal of the O'Brien School, entered Josephine General hospital December 19 for surgery.

In our little community of six families, we have four December birthdays, all much regretted: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wieting celebrate their birthdays on December 29 and 23 respectively; Little J. L. Enyart was three on December 11; and Dennis Bottel missed Christmas by only a few hours.

Santa Claus came early to O'Brien when on Dec. 23 he left well-filled Christmas stockings with each child at the O'Brien School Christmas party. The program began at 1 p.m. with a play by the third and fourth grades and songs and entertainment by the other two rooms.

Stockings were provided by the O'Brien PTA and stuffed by the following officers and room mothers: Mrs. Louise Hunter, Mrs. Florence Preston, Mrs. Hollis George and Mrs. Dorothy Bailey.

A special treat of pop corn balls was donated by the American Legion.

The O'Brien Home Economics unit Christmas party was held Wednesday, Dec. 17 at the Gordon Stevens home with potluck dessert and Christmas present exchange featuring the pleasant afternoon get together.

Care of walls and floors is the theme for the Jan. 28 meeting at which Mrs. Marie Floyd will be hostess.

Following is why we think motherhood should be reserved for fathers. They think this sort of thing is funny.

Seems our younger sprout got a pajama-wearing part in the Christmas play, and as usual the pajama situation at our house was not under control. So we made a special trip to town for flannelette and a pattern, and spent our last quivering ounce of energy on a fancy sewing job. Came play-day, and with pride we fetched out the gaudy nightgear, to be met with a double-barreled "Mother, how-could-you" look.

The part, our budding Thespian informed us, was for a poor boy who barely could afford rags, and never, but never, brand-new pajamas!
