M. E. Church Notes

"Give us this day our daily bread." Matt. 6. 11.

Class No. 3 was the star class in the Bible verse contest last Sunday.

Bro. James Moore, the district superintendent, delivered a very able sermon Sunday evening on the subject "Making Our Own Ways." All thinking people cannot afford to miss such sermons.

The second Quarterly Conference was held on Monday evening. The reports showed all departments of the church to be working in harmony and with an excellent feeling manifest between pastor and people. All claims due were paid up to date in full. The friends of the church, both in and out of the membership, are responding in a very liberal manner and with a few more pledges such as are coming in the year's budget will be provided for in a businesslike way.

The W. F. M. S. will meet with Sister J. D. Cain next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The annual thank offering will be taken. All members and friends are cordially invited to be present.

High School Notes

February examinations are a thing of the past, but students must remember that March tests will assault them in time. In regard to this, our President's motto of preparedness is a good one to follow.

Student's conduct will be regarded by the teachers as more courteous, if they will refrain from walking on their heels while school is in session.

Enoch Cunningham is painting several very good pictures to be used in advertising the High School play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

The Senior class of the High School has succumbed to the evil results of women's suffrage. Since the feminine element of the class enjoys an overwhelming majority, and for this reason the masculine members beg to inform the public to look upon all official acts of the class with leniency.

Dicken's best work is entitled "Dicken's Limitations." At least this is the opinion of some of the students who took English examinations.
