PATRIOTISM

The other night
I went to the theatre
With a lowbrow friend,
And the orchestra played
"Little Brown Jug."
And he thought
It was the national anthem
And he stood up,
And I did, too,
Darn him.

—Arkansas Gazette.

One sure way to get a degree for literary achievement is to hand over some hard cash to a hard-up college.

It appears that the last of the many things a soldier has to learn is the point of destination. Nor is the general public any better informed. There are few straight tips as to the movement of troops, and most of these are incorrect.

The Halsey district presents a scene at this time of peaceful activity amidst a setting of bounteous crops. A stranger need not go far from the town in any direction to get an idea of the agricultural wealth of this section of the Willamette Valley.

The government crop report for July 9 indicates that the winter wheat crop in Oregon this year will be approximately 4,000,000 bushels less than last year. A crop of 6,340,000 bushels of spring wheat is forecasted, as against 6,210,000 bushels last year.

An eastern paper says if you have five dollars, more or less, for which you have no pressing need go and pay a debt with it. That is the best use you can make of the money unless you are naked or starving. People have to pay more for their sugar and coffee because other people owe the grocer and won't pay. It is one of the items in the high cost of living. And then, too, it is a wholesome public policy to scatter the money around. It will help find work for some poor man and help some other debtor pay his debt. So if you can, pay up now.

City to Buy Flag Pole

At the last meeting of the city council that august body of officials decided that for the city of Halsey to show the right spirit of patriotism, Old Glory should be floating on high, and for that purpose they gave the recorder instructions to order a fifty-foot flag pole, and it is hoped that ere long it will be erected and the flag unfurled to the breeze.

HALSEY ENTERPRISE

MAKES CLUBBING ARRANGEMENT WITH

THE OREGON FARMER

Offers Unusual Opportunity To Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruit-grower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber of THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

A Trip to Eastern Oregon

I'll have to give some of our experiences on our recent trip. Eldon Cross went with us as far as Portland. We reached Cascade Locks Sunday, June 17.

The Columbia Highway was something wonderful, but I found it dangerous on Sundays or any big day. There were thousands of autos on July 4th, and on the 7-mile hill we found it more dangerous. I found that Fords were climbers and going down they can go faster. So we were delayed a day before we could take our journey. With all our bad luck we found others in the same boat.

On the 19th we took a glimpse at The Dalles. From Bend to Burns, 150 miles, we went through a desert, not a bird to be seen, or water or trees. Crops were poor in places. Farmers have to irrigate. Prices of everything are high. On July 2 we started home. On our way we had a little visit with Frate Chance and family, a brother to Harry Chance, on their way to Bend, to celebrate.

Redmond has a population of 650. Raises fruit and all kinds of grain. They call this the sunny side of Oregon.

On the 4th of July we reached home, where we can rest in the shade of the old apple tree.

Mrs. G. W. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Chance, who, with H. W. Chance, recently disposed of the Halsey livery stable, have moved to their home in the country and will resume their farming operations. They recently suffered the loss of a valuable mare by hanging, she having gotten her foot over the rope with which she was tied to the manger, and breaking her neck.

The Oregon Fire Relief Assn., of McMinnville, writes more insurance than any other companies in Oregon. Has operated almost 22 years. Has assets of more than $250,000, including premiums in process of collection its assets exceed $300,000. Has paid more than $1,125,000 in losses to its members. Has paid every loss dollar for dollar. Investigate this company and insure with it. Spend Oregon money at home. Miller & Walter, Agts., Corvallis, Ore. A card will bring us to you.

The Red Cross Society will hold their next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Quick Thursday evening, July 19.

Taking Big Chances

It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation can be obtained on trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.
