ALL AROUND THE FARM

GROWING RED CLOVER.

Hay Is Rich In Protein, Palatable and of High Feeding Value.

(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

Red clover is the most important leguminous forage crop in what is known as the timothy-clover area, which includes New England, the middle Atlantic and the north central groups of states. It is also important in certain sections of the great northwest and in the northern part of the south central states. Where it does well it may be considered as the basis of permanent systems of agriculture.

Red clover grows well on a variety of soils, but is best adapted to deep,

Experiments have shown that the removal of the hay crop does not destroy the value of the clover as a green manure crop. From 24 to 50 per cent of its fertilizer value is probably left in the roots and stubble which can be plowed under. Picture shows turning under red clover for green manure.

well drained clay loams and to limestone areas. On sandy soils it is productive when well supplied with humus. In general it will not thrive on ill drained land or on sour or acid soils. The customary way of seeding red clover is to sow it in the spring on winter grain, which acts as a nurse crop. This is a cheap and convenient method, but it is often unsuccessful on soils which are low in humus content. In that case the surface of the ground is likely to dry out quickly after the grain has been removed, and as a result the clover perishes.

POULTRY PICKINGS.

Cracked and fissured perches harbor lice. Have only sound lumber in your perches.
Feed your fowls liberally.
Give them a variety of whole-some food.
Dry feeding of baby chicks is the only way.
Bran is as cheap a food as can be used for the mash.
Feed the chicks sparingly the first ten days. They are apt to eat more than they have any business to do.
Water should be given to the youngsters from the start.
Baby chicks soon learn to scratch. There is no better medicine for them.

SICK WIFE'S STORY SURPRISES HALSEY

The following has surprised Halsey: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler's-ka empties BOTH large and small intestine, it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach and gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. L. E. Walton, druggist.

The Oregon Fire Relief Assn., of McMinnville, writes more insurance than any other two companies in Oregon. Has operated almost 22 years. Has assets of more than $250,000, including premiums in process of collection its assets exceed $300,000. Has paid more than $1,125,000 in losses to its members. Has paid every loss dollar for dollar. Investigate this company and insure with it. Spend Oregon money at home. Miller & Walter, Agts., Corvallis, Ore. A card will bring us to you.

THE STOCKMAN.

The neck and shoulders of most horses are all the time changing. The collar that may be all right this year may need considerable readjusting another year.

A good hog pasture cuts the cost of growing pigs and hogs in two.

Get the sheep out on the pasture while the bite is short. Give a good feeding of hay in the morning before turning to pasture.

Some blacksmiths seem to think they must earn their money paring off the horse's hoof. Result, thousands of poor sore footed horses.

The feeding period of the hog is short, and the more quickly it is given the greater the profit.

Provide a lamb creep so the lambs can be fed an extra ration of grain by themselves.

MORE HENS NEEDED.

Farmers Should Keep on Hatching Chicks Until July.

The nation is confronted with a serious shortage of laying hens, and farmers should do their part in solving one phase of the food supply problem by hatching more chicks than usual this season, believes Ross M. Sherwood, assistant head of the Kansas State Agricultural college poultry department.

Because of the high feed prices farmers sold hens last fall that ordinarily would have been retained for breeding purposes and egg production. The low egg production this spring has been

The Poultry House.

The prime essentials for a small poultry house are fresh air, dryness, sunlight and space enough to keep the birds comfortable. For the general purpose breeds about four square feet of floor space should be allowed for each bird. The fowls should also have as much outside space as possible to run in.

Those wishing to contribute to the mess fund for the boys of Fifth Company, Oregon Coast Artillery, should send checks to the Albany Democrat or Albany Herald, or leave it with the local committee in Albany.
