

The Halsey Enterprise

An Independent Newspaper.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

D. H. TALMADGE, Editor

Entered as second-class matter October 3, 1912, at the post office at Halsey, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Devoted to the material upbuilding of Halsey and surrounding country and Linn county generally. Subscription rate $1.50 per year in advance.

One thing we've noticed about some war bread—it puts grit into a person.

We don't hear much of that Forty-five Efficiency club these days. What's happened to it?

Fourteen of the 127 school districts in the county are reported over the top in the War Savings drive.

It begins to look as if the Halsey service flag would have to be replaced by one with space for more stars.

A meeting has been called at Albany July 6 for the purpose of organizing a Linn county livestock marketing association.

Halsey this week is completely surrounded by haymakers. Hay is a bigger crop of course than some of us expected it would be, and the quality is very fair.

Indications abound that the spring of 1918 was high tide for Germany, and that from now on the battle will be an ebbing struggle for the central powers.

People who are sick and unable to eat wheat substitutes, by obtaining certificates from their physician and presenting them to the food administration may secure permits to purchase wheat flour.

We can better appreciate why we should now buy only the things we need when we stop to think that in the past the supply of labor and materials has been chiefly consumed by ordinary civilian needs while now a large proportion of it must be devoted to the needs of the army and navy. It is self-evident that the labor and materials, the supply of which is limited, now used by the government cannot be used also for unnecessary civilian wants.

Whooping Cough

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy, which can be done by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. P. H. Martin, Peru, Ind., writes: "My two daughters had whooping cough. I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it worked like a charm."

YOUR RED CROSS

An Army Without a Gun

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON

Of the Vigilantes.

THE Red Cross is the greatest instrument of mercy the world has ever seen. Noble as the service of mercy and helpfulness was in Civil War days, the Red Cross surpasses it immeasurably not only in the range and variety of its effort, but in efficiency and effectiveness.

The Red Cross is, we may say, the arms of the mothers of the world reached out to their sons to bind up their wounds and comfort them. The Red Cross is an army without a gun that wages war only upon suffering and heartache. Where the flag of the stars goes there the banner of the Red Cross must fly beside it. We watch our boys go forth to war with a spirit of hopefulness because we know that this great agency of humanity presses close behind them; that its work is not incidental, but the intelligent directed effort of one of the most marvelous organizations ever contrived by American genius.

We have all contributed to the Red Cross; we shall be called upon again to contribute to its funds,—again and perhaps again. And we will respond again and yet again! For this is a war for the defense of civilization, and we of great, free, splendid, glorious America, have every intention that it shall be fought with the army of the Red Cross solidly supporting our soldiers.

The Greatest Military Feat of All Ages

The 200,000 soldiers now going across every month constitute America's answer to the blow the Germans launched in March. They also crush the kaiser's last hope that his submarines might win the war. As each regiment unfurls the stars and stripes on European soil, it brings a new pledge of American support to the allies. But this pledge of our blood is not enough. A strong spirit cannot strike except through a strong body. To maintain the morale at the height needed for victory in 1919, France, Italy and Britain must have food, more food, steel, coal and raw materials of endless variety. Also, when our army reaches 2,500,000 men and goes into action, it must have an unceasing stream of food, transport, ordnance, ammunition and equipment. Without these supplies in abundance and on schedule time it cannot fight efficiently, and inefficient fighting is a

Russia means that hundreds of thousands will be sacrificed in vain.

An expeditionary force of three million, even of two million, men operating three thousand miles from its base is the greatest military feat ever undertaken. To carry it out successfully, require the complete mobilization of American manpower in order, first, to produce all war essentials in sufficient quantities and, second, to transport these essentials to their destination on time.

As yet the American forces in Europe are only partially equipped. They still depend upon France and England for artillery, machine guns and aircraft. Only a few of them have had to replace equipment used up in battle. When a million and a half American soldiers go into action and call for shells, airplanes, uniforms, boots, guns, the wherewithal to carry on, the real test of national preparedness will come.—From the July Sunset.

Home Guard Notes

The regular meeting of the Halsey Home Guards was held Monday evening.

Officers' drill Thursday night, June 27. All are urged to attend, as the meeting of the delinquency court will be held at that time.

Capt. Stalnaker is at present attending officers' school at Eugene. During his absence First Lieut. Robertson will act as captain.

Next regular drill Monday night, July 1. All those who are going to Lebanon come with their minis made up.

The president by special proclamation will call all the people together in each school district on June 28 to pledge the $2,000,000,000 in the little government bonds. This pledge which every one is expected to make will mean thrift, economy and self-denial. The governors of the states and the mayors of the cities will make proclamations concerning this important event. Never before in our country's history has a president felt the necessity of calling the people in each school district to assemble.

Sour Stomach

This is a mild form of indigestion. It is usually brought on by eating too rapidly or too much, or of food not suited to your digestive organs. If you will eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat but little meat and none at all for supper, you will more than likely avoid the sour stomach without taking any medicine whatever. When you have sour stomach take one of Chamberlain's Tablets to aid digestion.
