TO PREVENT "FLU"

Prof. Pernot, city bacteriologist of Portland, gives the following advice to those who would be free from Spanish influenza: "I am of the opinion that an excellent and safe preventive of the Spanish influenza would be to take nasal douches and gargles twice daily of a weak solution of calcium hypochlorite. There is a very excellent preparation of this on the market under the proprietary name of

'B-K'

This is a very strong solution and could be used in the proportion of 10 to 15 drops of the solution to one half glass of water. I suggest this because the solution is about 10 times as strong as carbolic acid and is not injurious to the tissues."

NEW FACES FOR OLD.

The American Red Cross has undertaken varied tasks. These range from darning the socks of the soldiers to making new faces for those disfigured by war. Mrs. Ladd, the wife of Dr. Ladd, now doing service in Red Cross hospitals abroad, is working in her Paris studio making masks to cover disfigured faces. A photograph of the soldier showing how he looked before being wounded is obtained and then a mask of copper or silver is made to resemble it and replace the part that is gone. This is made as lifelike as possible and held on, as a rule, with bows behind the ears like spectacles. The soldier cannot eat or sleep in these masks, but he can see and breathe through them. Sometimes a nose is put on so lifelike that it cannot be detected, and sometimes it is a chin or in rare instances almost the entire face. This great humanitarian work enables the victim to mingle with people without being made conspicuous or conscious that he is being avoided.

For Christmas a membership in the Red Cross is a suitable and a seasonable gift.

Colonel John Cradlebaugh, for fifteen years with the Capital Journal at Salem, a genial gentleman, a scholar, a poet and an editorial writer whose talent was as great as his heart, died Tuesday at Salem, aged 70 years.

For Croup
"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is splendid for croup," writes Mrs. Edward Hassett, Frankfort, N. Y. "My children have been quickly relieved of attacks of this dreadful complaint by its use." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult.

THE RED CROSS IS REAL SERVICE

By FRANK MORRISON,
Secretary American Federation of Labor.

The work of the Red Cross is not confined to our boys on battlefield or in hospital nor amidst the ruins of Belgium and other portions of devastated Europe. One of its great activities is any necessary aid to the dependents of members of America's military forces.

On the battlefield the Red Cross presents an heroic figure. In America, removed from destruction and death, the Red Cross steps silently to the side of the father and mother whose boy is "over there" and who need counsel and aid.

No service is too small for the Red Cross. If allotments from the government or from their son are delayed, or information on the government's war risk insurance is wanted, the Red Cross is both counselor and friend. It enters into the home in the true spirit of charity—secrecy.

But first and foremost our soldiers in field and hospital must be given the most attentive care possible. Nothing we can do will equal their share in this movement for world democracy, and the Red Cross presents an opportunity for us to play our part in this great drama by contributing to the extent of our ability. The Red Cross appeals to organized workers because of its one quality—service.

Behind Red Cross service is an unending charity that is not defaced by cost; marks, a democracy that personifies Jefferson's great principle of equality and a religion that is beyond sectarianism.

NO ONE SUFFERED HERE.

The marvel of our voluntary food-saving, now that we are "getting results," is that no one ever actually suffered any hardship from it; that we all are better in health and spirit and better satisfied with ourselves because of our friendly self-denial.

Food control in America held the price of breadstuffs steady, prevented vicious speculation and extortion and preserved tranquillity at home.

In no other nation is there so willing a sense of voluntary self-sacrifice as in America—that was shown in the abstinence from wheat.

Find more wheat, it came; more pork, it came; save sugar, it was done. So Americans answered the challenge of German starvation.

Good will rules the new world as fear governed the old world. Through sharing food America helps make the whole world kin.

Food control made sufficiency from shortage, kept the rein on food prices, gave the nation's full strength exercise.

Starvation by Germany challenged all the world; food conservation in America answered the challenge.

Food conservation in America has been the triumph of individual devotion to the national cause.

Sunday school Christmas lesson: The Birth of Jesus. "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."—Luke 2:11. Christ's coming brings peace on earth. Every expression of gladness of which mortal man is capable is crowded into the celebration of this event. Humanity has never had any other such festival. And man's conception of its divine meaning grows richer and fuller as intelligence and righteousness increase.

The Christmas star has five points: "Love to God, Love to man, Thoughtfulness, Self-denial and Joy."

Five committees from our Sunday school are soliciting the friends this week for funds to send to the poor starving Armenians. This will go to help make the $2,000,000 which the Sunday schools of America are asked to give. God is graciously supplying our tables with an abundance day by day, and we cannot deny these poor starving mortals.

We are very thankful that no new cases of flu are reported, and unless there should be some development arise there will be the regular services next Sunday. Every Sunday school member, young and old, and all the friends, COME!!! Special music. Remember, Christmas is right here and you might as well something!!!

MAKE SOLDIER FEEL HE IS AS GOOD AS EVER

Men disabled in the service who are returning from the front and who find it hard at first to see their way toward earning a livelihood are a special problem for the Red Cross. Under the Smith-Sears law a fund is appropriated to re-educate every disabled man who will take the opportunity to make a living. It is felt that such men are likely to be weakened in their resolution to keep their self respect and find real work by the mistaken charity of hero worshippers, who will forget them once the first flush of war enthusiasm is over. Here the support of the disabled man's family must be enlisted, for in the last analysis it is the man's family who will be the determining influence in his rehabilitation. The relatives must be braced to meet the situation—to make of themselves for the man a bulwark against discouragement and weakness.

Mrs. Isley's Letter
In a recent letter Mrs. D. W. Isley of Litchfield, Ill., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for diarrheas of the stomach and as a laxative, and have found them a quick and sure relief." If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation these tablets will do you good.

Don't Hesitate to Ask Questions

Are you doing enough driving with lights off to keep your battery properly charged?

Are you replacing the evaporation, which is always going on, by a proper amount of distilled water?

Are you sure current isn't being lost daily by some defect in wiring or connections?

Does current flow freely?

If you'll stop the next time you see our service sign, we'll be glad to answer as many questions as you can find time to ask.

And don't forget to include an inquiry about the Still Better Willard with Threaded Rubber Insulation.
