Mrs. Kump has recovered from her recent illness.

Richard Garnjobst is visiting this week with his grandparents in Salem.

Miss Nettie Spencer came home last Saturday from Eugene after taking the summer course at the U of O.

Link St John of Shedd, a clerk in Davis and Shedd's store, was quite sick for about four days, but is improving now.

A. Wesley and family, W. R. McAllister and family, and Chanzev Sickels and family picnicked at London Springs last Sunday.

The Misses Marie and Mildred Stewart returned to Portland the first of the week, after a few weeks' vacation, to resume their work there.

Miss Ethel Curtis, who is a nurse at the hospital in Harrisburg is visiting this week with her sisters, Mesdames Clark and Brock.

Mrs. Nellie McPherson has received her Milk and Cream Testers' license, so she is a full-fledged creamery woman now and qualified to look after the cream according to law.

Mrs. J. Curtis from Canada stayed from Sunday until Tuesday with Mrs. Bert Clark and then went to the country to visit Mrs. Henry Brock. She is a sister-in-law of both ladies.

Carl and Mrs. Orin Hogue, from Salem, came to Mr. Marsden last Saturday and stayed overnight and on Sunday night they stayed at Bert Clark's. Mrs. H. left for home Tuesday but Mr. Hogue stayed to work with a threshing machine.

Ray Bramwell's daughter Della, had the misfortune to chop two of her fingers last Sunday. The middle finger on the left hand was cut diagonally thru the nail and the index finger was cut thru a small portion of the bone and nearly off, only a small portion of the skin holding. Dr. Marks dressed the wound and thinks the bone will grow together all right.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stafford received Tuesday a box of fine Columbia peaches from the R. L. Winniford ranch west of Salem, which they are enjoying immensely. Mrs. Stafford was a guest of the Winnifords at their beautiful farm, "Hi-me-away Home" on the banks of the Willamette during cherry time at which time Mr. Winniford was thinning his peaches and propping the limbs of the trees. Besides peaches and cherries, of which there is an abundance, Mr. Winniford has a large patch of loganberries and other fruit as well as a large grove of walnut trees.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson have been very happy during the recent visits in their home from all their seven children but one son, Lester, in Cali., and one daughter, Mrs. Iva Rawley, in Oklahoma. Mrs. R. J. Keeney, living near Spokane, Wash., started on her return home Monday noon. Mrs. Lloyd Robnett, of Cut Bank Montana, will remain another week. Stanley, a druggist in Eugene, has been home on two recent visits. Glen, a designing engineer in Columbus, Ohio, with his wife, a former Halsey girl, are here on a vacation, and Harold, the youngest, a pharmacist who is employed this summer in Portland, has been home for a week end. The happy parents have reason to feel proud of their fine family and their success in life, and those who have been observing are rejoicing with them.

Cure for Dysentery.

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially for his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

Missionary Meeting.

Twentyfive ladies of the Missionary society and neighbors were guests of Mrs. Frank Hadley last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. B. M. Miller had charge of the program and through her efforts a number of interesting talks and readings were given.

Mrs. Gertrude Porter sang one of her pleasing solos and Miss Gladys Wells of the Christian church told of her plans to enter the mission field.

Mrs. Hadley rallied to the call of an increase in the apportionment by donating a coop of young chickens. These were auctioned to the ladies by W. J. Ribelin, bringing the sum of $7.75.

During the social hour delicious watermelon was served by the hostess.

A Bilious Attack.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.

Christian Church Notes

The "summer slump" received another mortal wound last Sunday when the attendance at all the services of the church was exceptionally good. The Bible school showed great improvement over the previous week, a source of much inspiration to those who are responsible for the success of this department.

Under the leadership of Bro. Arthur Robnett the C. E. hour was a very helpful and instructive one and was greatly enjoyed by the many present. Next Sunday at 7:30 sharp, Dorothy Miller will have charge of this meeting and will lead the discussion of the topic: "Speech, wise and unwise."

The Bible school lesson is entitled: "The duty and privilege of personal evangelism." This should provide all with much that is helpful in their efforts to testify for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Bro. Phillips has chosen for his morning theme "Neutralizing the mission of Jesus", and in the evening at 8:30 he will speak on "The return of the Christ." You will want to hear this we are sure as Bro. Phillips intends to make the scriptural teaching on this subject very clear. A cordial welcome always awaits all who attend this and all the services. Come.

To Improve Your Digestion.

"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them did I find the right treatment. Since taking them my digestion is fine."—Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.

Methodist Church Notes

Sunday School, The Duty and Privilege of Personal Evangelism.

Ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth. Acts, 1: 8.

The purpose of this lesson is (1) to show how Paul and his missionary associates gave themselves to the work of pointing men and women to Christ; (2) that helping a soul into the experience of salvation is the greatest and best thing one human being can do for another.

The girls' quartette from the Standard Bearers will sing at Sunday school next Sunday.

The Booster girls held a real live business meeting and social at the home of Merle Straley on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and a good time. These girls are all that their name implies, and with their teacher are doing things.

The King's Heralds were the guests of Elliot McWilliams with their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon.

At the next League meeting the subject will be the Historical origin of the church denominations. The meeting will be led by the pastor.

At the next Sunday morning service Miss Gertrude Porter will sing one of her much appreciated solos and Alberta Koontz will do likewise in the evening.

A cordial welcome to all visiting friends.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound over the seat of pain is often more effectual for a lame back than a plaster and does not cost anything like as much.

PUT THEM PULLING TOGETHER

What Happened When Spirit of Co-operation Got Busy With Band of Foolish, Patriotic Citizens.

One day a traveler came to a village green upon which a number of citizens stood in a discouraged and exhausted fashion about a flag pole. "And who are these men?" asked the traveler.

"They are patriotic citizens," he was told, "who are trying to raise the flag to the top of the pole. Each one, however, has his own method of rope-pulling, and though they are very strong and determined to raise the flag and though, as you can see, each one is putting all his strength in the work, nothing seems to happen. We spectators are afraid that they will spend so much time in argument that the flag will never be raised at all."

"This is very interesting," said the traveler.

He approached the group and addressed it. "Patriots," he said, "if you will stand with me a moment and all pull the rope steadily in one direction, your object will be accomplished."

"But we have different ideas of direction," they told him.

"We will discuss those afterwards," said the traveler: "In the meantime let us take one long, strong pull together and see what happens."

With much distrust his suggestion was acted upon, the flag went swiftly to the top of the pole and opened gloriously above the cheering populace.

The patriots wiped their heated brows and looked at each other.

"If that thought had occurred to us some time ago," said one, "a great deal of our valuable time might have been saved."

"Also," remarked the traveler, who by this time had been recognized by several as the Spirit of Co-operation, "the flag would have been flying much sooner."

NOT PLACE OF IMPORTANCE

References to Town of Joppa: Only Occasionally Met With in Old Testament Writings.

The town of Joppa was never within the territory of the Israelites, in Old Testament times, and so meets with only casual reference from the Old Testament writers. Thus it is mentioned, by the writer of II Chronicles, as a seaport for the importation of Lebanon timber, which was floated down the coast. Said Hiram, the king of Tyre, in the course of his "kind answer" to Solomon's embassy for workmen and materials, "And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou shalt need; and we will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Joppa; and thou shalt carry it to Jerusalem." And the great cedars of Lebanon were hauled across the country between Joppa and Jerusalem. Joppa came into the hands of the Jews in the time of the Maccabees, and, although Pompey restored it to the Syrians, it was later given back to the Jews, with an exemption from tax.

Marriage Question.

Why is it that it never occurs to a certain type of woman that there may be some men in the world too good for her to marry? Every man with any brains at all knows that there are some women in the world too good for him to marry. The average business man shies off from the brilliant and beautiful woman, lest, marrying her, he should be patently outclassed through his life. He wants a woman who is just his equal in looks and intelligence—no more—at least not so much more that he will have to suffer in contrast.

But women apparently never give such considerations a moment's thought. I have seen brilliant men loaded through life with women who caught them very young, and who stopped growing at nineteen, while the men kept right on. These women must have known in the days when their fiances were quoting to them poetry which they couldn't understand that they were not the equals of their men. —Woman's Home Companion.

Charm of Old San Antonio.

The charm of the old city lies chiefly around the historic spots and buildings in which the romance of its early history is centered. Rarely do we enter a city that can boast of ancient edifices and hallowed ground, the history of which is known the country over. Rarer still is the community whose quaint buildings, picturesque scenes and romantic atmosphere are its main attractions, luring thousands to its gates each year. Such, however, is the boast of San Antonio, Tex., one of the quaintest and most interesting cities in the United States. Nowhere else may you find a greater appeal to the romantic and the picturesque and having such hospitable welcome extended you; nowhere will you find such a blending of the ancient with the modern as in this delightful city of our own Southwest.—Architecture.
